ESTONIA-SOVIET TENSION GROWS

HELSINGFORS (AP) — Finnish leaders showed interest tonight in reports reaching Helsingfors that Latvia and Estonia were growing restive under their new military agreements with Soviet Russia and possibly were approaching a crisis in their relations with Moscow.

The Finns were watching particularly military developments across the Gulf of Finland. Gen. Berkins, chief of the Latvian army, was reported to have gone to Estonia to negotiate with Gen. Johan Laidoner, commander-in-chief of the Estonian army, in connection with co-operation to strengthen the national defenses of the two states.

New Alaska Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States War Department announced today two new army air corps stations would be located at Fairbanks and Anchorage, Alaska, if sufficient funds were appropriated by Congress.

Cabaret Tests

VANCOUVER (CP) — Magistrate H. S. Wood in police court today remanded till February 19 three cabaret operators who were charged with infractions of the civic cabaret by-law when they kept their premises open after midnight Saturday recently.

Superintendent W. G. Grant said the same proprietors operated their premises after midnight last Saturday, but no further summonses would be issued against them before the present cases were settled.

Italy Builds Defences

JESSENICE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslav workmen passing through this frontier town reported to military authorities today that Italy was speeding fortifications both in the Udine region opposite Yugoslavia and the Brenner Pass zone opposite German Austria.

Nazi Ship Caught?

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The 3,771-ton German freighter Waka, which slipped out of Rio de Janeiro port last night with the supposed intention of running the British blockade, sent out an SOS this afternoon.

The Spanish vessel, Arriaga Mendi, radioed that she had picked up the distress call at a position 48 miles from the Waka, east of Rio de Janeiro, and was proceeding to her assistance.

Inasmuch as the 9,800-ton British cruiser Hawkins, which was expected here today, had not yet arrived, it was believed probable by Brazilian observers that the freighter had encountered the warship.

Opposes Third Term

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Telegram said today that "Postmaster-General Farley has told Mr. Roosevelt he is strongly opposed to a third term" and that "in reply he (Farley) has received from the President what he regards as assurance that Mr. Roosevelt will not be a candidate."

In Chicago, Farley's only reaction to the story was "no comment."

Army Moves Mapped

PARIS (AP) — Premier Daladier today presided over a French war council meeting at the headquarters of General Gamelin, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces, to map fresh war policy.

It was announced this evening that generals at the head of the forces on the western front attended the session, but the decisions taken were not disclosed.

The regular evening communiqué of the French high command meanwhile said "nothing of importance to report."

Wang's Army Fights

SHANGHAI (AP) — Japanese military authorities here announced Tuesday morning that the first Chinese army supporting former Premier Wang Chingwei had been formed and had landed Monday on the coast of Yuki province, south China, "with the co-operation of the Japanese army and navy."

The Japanese indicated the force now numbered 50,000 men.

9 U-Boats Stated Destroyed In British Trap

NEW YORK (CP) — The Daily News, in a copyright story, says today that "at least nine" German U-boats have been destroyed in a trap set by the British navy.

The story, attributed to unidentified Canadian sources, says that some of Germany's ablest submarine commanders had been lost in the vessels caught in the deliberately-set trap.

The trap was made after Lieut. Commander Gunther Prien had become a Nazi hero in Germany for penetrating the Scapa Flow naval base and torpedoing the battleship Royal Oak.

The News says that Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, remarked after Prien's feat that, "now they (the Nazi U-boat commanders) will all want to try it," and added: "Let them come."

The plan, according to the News report, worked this way:

The fleet was withdrawn from Scapa Flow to the Firth of Clyde, on Scotland's west coast, and the Firth of Forth, on the east. "And there, Nazi U-boat commanders discovered one by one that the British weren't 'bothering' about keeping the booms closed at the harbor mouths."

"One by one, overlooking the incredibility of such evident stupidity, Nazi commanders succumbed to the temptation to out-Prien Prien. One by one — although on Christmas Day two tried it — they worked their ships through the open booms into the jaws of death."

"What the Germans should have realized was that both harbors were 'wired for sound.' Electrical ears picked up their approach and progress. The raiders' positions were always exactly known. Once they were inside the trap, the booms closed and death-laden destroyers rushed the submarines' final rendezvous. No word went back to warn other Nazi commanders."

Death Cause Investigated

Murder or a hit and run driver today were considered as the possible means by which T. Halliday, elderly resident of a shack at the rear of 101 Burnside Road, met death last night on Burnside Road, near Douglas Street.

The body of Mr. Halliday was found last night about 9:15 on the sidewalk, between Manchester and Jutland Roads. There was a wound in the scalp.

A post mortem examination was called by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, and general circumstances give preliminary indication death was not due to natural causes.

Detective Henry Jarvis, who investigated the death, said a slight indent was found on the boulevard which might have been the impression of a car wheel.

Mr. Halliday resided with his son-in-law, Harry Tiequet. The body was found by Dave Davidson, 2586 Cook Street, and Charles Varcoe, Burnside and Helmecken Roads.

Constables W. Andrews and Tom Banister attended from headquarters and took the body to the Jubilee Hospital.

CAMPAIGN SPEEDS ON LINCOLN DAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Touching off a week of widespread political activity, Republican orators utilized Abraham Lincoln's birth anniversary today to sound the opening of their United States election campaign.

Former President Hoover will head the speakers, giving a radio address from Omaha at 6 p.m., P.S.T. Several potential candidates for the presidential nomination, although avoiding mention of their own aspirations, will deliver addresses expressing their views on current issues.

Among the orators will be Senator Robert Taft of Ohio at Greensboro, N.C., District Attorney Thomas Dewey of New York at Portland, Ore., National Chairman John Hamilton at New York, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire at Oklahoma City, and Senator Henry Lodge of Massachusetts at Brooklyn.

Governors James of Pennsylvania and Stassen of Minnesota will join Governor Dickinson of Michigan in a rally at Grand Rapids, Mich., with Senator Arthur Vandenberg presiding.

Anzac Army Lands in Egypt; Joins Allies

SUEZ, Egypt (CP) — Allied forces in the Near East have been joined by one of the greatest armies ever transported by sea from New Zealand and Australia. The troops landed here today.

A tent city at the edge of the desert was partly prepared for the husky troops, welcomed at the end of their 10,000-mile voyage by Dominions Secretary Anthony Eden.

The New Zealanders and Australians are all volunteers, many of them sons of soldiers who crossed the seas to fight in the last war.

A Reuters dispatch passed for transmission from Suez said the great armada of transports and British warships were anchored "as far as the eye could see."

How many additional troops arrived was not disclosed.

Health of the troops was reported excellent. They were said to be in high spirits.

The Australians are under command of Major-Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, chief of staff of the Australian Imperial Force in 1919. Commanding the New Zealand force is Major-General B. F. Freyberg.

CHERISH IDEALS

Sir Miles Lampson, British Ambassador to Egypt, conveyed this message from the King:

"I knew well the splendid tradition established by the armed forces of New Zealand and Australia will be worthily upheld by you who have left home in order to fight for the cause the whole Empire has made its own."

"Now that you have entered the field of active service, I send you my warmest welcome together with best wishes for your welfare."

The New Zealanders, all volunteers who have had three months of training, looked fit. Most of them are young, with a sprinkling of veterans of the last war.

Mr. Eden was cheered lustily when he told the men that in the unity of the British Commonwealth "lies the certainty of final victory and the assurance of better things to come."

With Mr. Eden were Sir Miles Lampson, Lieut. Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, general officer commander-in-chief in the Middle East; Major-General Freyberg, Rear-Admiral Arthur Bromley of the Dominions Office and the governor of the Suez Canal and the military governor of Suez.

They went on board the first transport to arrive, a New Zealand ship, the King's message was read by Sir Miles, standing on the after hatch.

PORT BOOMS

The arrival of the fleet galvanized the port into intense activity, the troops massed on the decks singing and waving to those ashore.

The troops disembarked and traveled to their camp. Units of the British army had sent large parties to prepare camp for their overseas guests. The site has been converted in the space of eight weeks from a waste devoid of all habitation into a small town.

The layout involves seven miles of tarmac roads, complete with a sterilized water system and four miles of drains. There are also more than 150 huts under construction by local labor under army supervision.

FORCES ESTIMATED

ISTANBUL (AP) — Advances reaching Istanbul placed the number of Australian and New Zealand soldiers who arrived today in Egypt at 30,000 men.

Their addition to already heavy concentrations of Allied troops in the Near East increased the belief in many quarters here that a new war front would be opened in the spring in the Balkans or the Caucasus.

Foreign military observers said carefully-checked figures indicated the British-French forces in the Near East totaled at least 570,000 men.

Sources close to the Allied military missions here said Gen. Maxime Weygand planned to have 1,000,000 men in French-ruled Syria soon.

Foreign observers were of the opinion the potential seriousness of Rumania's situation also was underscored by the troop concentrations. Germany wants more of Rumania's oil and French-British pressure is demanding that Bucharest refuse.

(London sources said they understood German pressure on Bucharest was slackening in fear of driving Rumania into the Allies' arms.)

His Last Picture

Lord Tweedsmuir is shown standing under the main arch at the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa on January 25 when he performed two important acts of his office in quick succession. The traditional Speech from the Throne was one of the briefest on record. A few hours later, at the request of the Prime Minister, he signed the order for dissolution of Parliament.

Victoria to Get Four Ship Jobs

Victoria shipyards will get contracts for the construction of at least four vessels of the whale-catcher type for anti-submarine work, according to R. W. Mayhew, Victoria's member of the last Parliament.

Mr. Mayhew returned Saturday from Ottawa, where he took part in the lengthy negotiations with the War Supply Board regarding the British-Columbia ship contracts. He said that before he left he had the assurance contracts would be let here, with at least four boats going to the Victoria yards.

Main sticking point on the contracts was the question of price. Due to better wage standards, higher costs of freight and materials the western yards could not get down to as low a figure as the eastern yards.

Mr. Mayhew said the local shipyard operators had shown a commendable attitude in reducing their bids to the lowest possible point. The War Supply Board was naturally interested in securing ships at the least cost.

Mr. Mayhew, who supported Premier Pattullo and other B.C. representatives in the negotiations, said they pointed out that B.C. was as anxious as any other part of Canada to do its share in winning the war. This province was suitable for shipbuilding and felt that its men and machinery could best be utilized in this direction.

OTTAWA (CP) — Announcement is expected shortly of the awarding of contracts to British Columbia shipyards for 10 anti-submarine boats of the whale-catcher class at a cost of about $6,000,000.

Transport Minister Howe said today that the orders had not been allocated definitely.

It was understood, however, that British Columbia yards in Vancouver and Victoria would share to this extent in the total order for 46 of this type of naval craft, the bulk of which will be constructed in Quebec and Ontario yards.

2 Gunners Injured
VANCOUVER (CP) — Gunners A. E. Rodney and T. Findlay of the 58th Heavy Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, were in hospital here this afternoon with injuries suffered when they were struck by a car at nearby Richmond. Both suffered fractures of legs.

Thomas A. Harris of Steveston, B.C., was charged with driving to the common danger. He told police he was blinded by the lights of a car parked on the opposite side of the road.

Lord Tweedsmuir Mourned

State Funeral For Late Governor In Federal Capital

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada today prepared to pay the highest tribute in the nation's gift to an honored Governor-General and a beloved adopted son, Baron Tweedsmuir, whose death in Montreal last night is mourned throughout the Dominion.

Officials took up the sad task of arranging for a state funeral service which will be held here Wednesday afternoon in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Lord Tweedsmuir, who had traveled Canada more extensively than any of his predecessors, will have his last Canadian homecoming Tuesday, when a special train brings the body from Montreal, arriving here at noon (9 a.m., P.S.T.).

Lady Tweedsmuir came back from Montreal today and a short time later it was announced at the office of the Prime Minister that it had been decided to place the preparation of the many details of the funeral in the hands of a committee of senior civil servants, headed by Dr. E. H. Coleman, Under-Secretary of State. All details will be submitted to Lady Tweedsmuir for final authorization before being adopted.

The make-up of this committee is primarily the same as that which last summer dealt with details of the Royal Visit.

Dr. Coleman announced all Dominion government offices would be closed Wednesday afternoon out of respect to the memory of the Governor-General.

It was understood here the body of His Excellency would be cremated and the ashes taken to the United Kingdom for interment.

TRAVELED BY TRAIN

After spending anxious hours at the Governor-General's bedside in Montreal till death came, Lady Tweedsmuir returned quietly to Ottawa. Accompanied by her son, Hon. Alastair Buchan, she arrived aboard a special train at 10:30 a.m. (7:30 a.m., P.S.T.) and was met at the station by Prime Minister King. He expressed his sorrow at the death of the Governor-General.

Her Excellency showed the effects of her grief and the long vigil but bore up well and made the trip from the station to Rideau Hall in one of the staff cars that met the special three-car train.

It was the same train that last Friday bore the Governor-General to Montreal for treatment in the Neurological Institute as he fought to recover from the concussion suffered last Tuesday in a fall in Government House.

There had been no advance notice of the exact time of the sad homecoming. As an ambulance, ordered as a precautionary step, drew up to the depot a few small knots of people appeared, but Royal Canadian Mounted Police guarded the approach to the station platform and kept onlookers at a distance.

Sir Shuldham Redfern, personal secretary of the Governor-General, also returned on the special train and went to the East Block, where he conferred with the Prime Minister and other government officials on the funeral.

With appropriate escort, the body of Lord Tweedsmuir will be taken from the Union Station to the Senate chamber in the Parliament Buildings, where it will lie in state for 24 hours.

Wednesday afternoon the body will be moved to the church where Lord Tweedsmuir worshipped during his residence in Ottawa. The state funeral service will start at 2:30 p.m.

STREET DRAPINGS

It is likely Ottawa will be draped in mourning during the ceremonies here.

A seven-day period of mourning was proclaimed by the government late last night and all immediate political activities of the Prime Minister and his colleagues, associated with the general election campaign, were canceled.

Members of the Dominion Cabinet who are absent from the capital, engaged in the political campaign, have been asked by the Prime Minister to return, if possible, to join in last tributes to the late Governor-General.

A flood of messages of sympathy for the bereaved family and for the government of which Lord Tweedsmuir was the head as personal representative of the King poured into Ottawa throughout the night and today.

CHIEF JUSTICE SERVES

The 74-year-old Chief Justice of Canada, Rt. Hon. Sir Lyman P. Duff, late last night took the solemn oath prescribed by His Majesty and shouldered the burdens of office as administrator of the government until a successor to the Governor-General has been appointed.

Sir Lyman issued a warm tribute to the late Governor-General, for whom he had on a number of occasions deputized on the happier occasions when His Excellency traveled to the far borders of the Dominion or visited his homeland.

Mr. King, a close personal friend of Lord Tweedsmuir even when he was plain John Buchan, author, parliamentarian and soldier, expressed the Dominion's sorrow over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation at Winnipeg at 7 o'clock last night.

In this tribute the Prime Minister was joined by Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Justice Minister, and the Conservative leader, Hon. R. J. Manion, the latter from Fort William, which he reached yesterday in the course of his election campaign tour. Mr. Lapointe spoke from Quebec. In a statement to the press following the broadcast the Prime Minister paid a more personal tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir's qualities of mind and heart.

Finns Repulse New Soviet Drive; Bag 72 Tanks

HELSINGFORS (AP) — The Finnish high command announced today that "several enemy divisions" had launched an artillery, tank and aircraft attack against Finnish positions in the Summa sector on the Isthmus of Karelia yesterday and that the battle was continuing today.

(A Russian division is estimated to number approximately 15,000 men.)

The Finns said the Russians simultaneously attacked near the river Vuoksi, northeast of Summa, and at Taipale, at the extreme eastern end of the Isthmus front. The Russians also attempted to turn the Finnish flanks by crossing the ice of both the Gulf of Finland and Lake Ladoga, it was said.

All these attacks and attempts failed, the Finns asserted, the Russians losing 72 tanks, which would be the greatest one-day bag of these machines since the war began.

The Finns said at least six Russian planes were shot down during the day.

The high command's communiqué said the Russians lost 360 men killed in a two-day battle in the Aittajoki (river) sector and 700 in the Kuhmo sector.

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS

ON THE MANNERHEIM LINE, Summa Sector (AP) — Confident Finnish officers declared today the power of the Red Army's infantry attacks was waning and predicted an end soon to the battle on this front, now 11 days old.

Although Soviet Russia has thrown her greatest offensive might into her effort to crack the Mannerheim Line here, it still is intact, as far as I could observe.

The kettle-drum rumble of Russian and Finnish artillery swelled to a great crescendo at dawn today, signaling the start of the 11th day of battle after a night of muted, slow-tempo shelling.

But Finnish officers said the Soviet infantry and tanks lacked the drive of previous days, and clouded skies kept aerial warfare to a minimum.

Battles also were reported in progress in the Lake Ladoga and Aittajoki sectors, but there, too, the Finns said the Russians had not advanced.

Within a mile and a half of Summa, pivotal point of the Soviet offensive, where I visited Finnish positions in a tour of the front, afoot and by sled, I found no indications that the Finnish steel-and-concrete line had been pierced.

The Russian onslaughts continued, with infantry attacking under the protection of artillery barrages which rained shells at a rate of almost two a second.

But, said a Finnish commander, "tiredness on the Russian side is apparent." Despite such novel equipment as steel shields and tanks which spit flaming naptha, he said Soviet troops were protected inadequately from Finnish fire and easier to stop than earlier in the battle.

Hitler Ousts Thyssen

BERLIN (AP) — Fritz Thyssen, German industrialist, who was one of Adolf Hitler's early financial backers, today was deprived of his German citizenship. His wife also lost her citizenship through a decree published in the official gazette.

Thyssen split with the Nazi regime not long ago and went to Switzerland.

ALBERTA'S DEBT CUT BY $7,600,000

EDMONTON (CP) — An overall deficit of $1,689,841 was forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1941, by Provincial Treasurer Solon Low in his budget speech in the Alberta Legislature this afternoon.

The estimated overall deficit is an increase of $18,733 over the $1,511,107 estimated deficit for the year ending March 31, 1940.

The provincial treasurer said no increase in taxation would be imposed.

In a special supplement to the address because "this session marks the end of this government's first term of office," Mr. Low, reported the Social Credit government since its first budget, March 31, 1936, had cut Alberta's net funded and unfunded debt by $7,672,225.58 to $150,407,770.42.

BELFAST RIOTERS SENT TO PRISON

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (CP) — Resentment of the Irish Republican Army generated by Great Britain's hanging of two of its members burst forth at the week-end in rioting and a raid on an armory, and was accompanied by a demand for "re-establishing" the Irish republic.

About 2,000 I.R.A. sympathizers battled club-wielding police with bottles, stones and bricks in an hour of bitter street fighting yesterday. Scores were injured and 20 arrested.

Fines and jail sentences were imposed today on two women and eight men for participation in the disturbances.

One man received a three-month sentence, two one-month sentences and the rest were fined 40 shillings ($8) each.

Despite a ban on demonstrations, the I.R.A. sympathizers attempted to hold a meeting in the Falls Road area of Belfast, and police charged them.

CAMPAIGN SPEECHES ON AIR POSTPONED

OTTAWA (CP) — All political parties in Canada have agreed to suspension of broadcasting of election speeches over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Gladstone Murray, general manager of the CBC, said today.

This suspension is in respect to the late Lord Tweedsmuir and will continue till after the funeral.

Under the suspension the Prime Minister will forego a broadcast which was tentatively scheduled for Wednesday night. The Agriculture Minister, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, will not make a brief broadcast he had scheduled from Regina today, and the Conservative leader, Hon. R. J. Manion, will postpone a national broadcast scheduled for tonight.

This afternoon, at Liberal headquarters, it was said campaigning for the party would be resumed following the funeral of His Excellency.

Manion Alters Plans

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—Because of the death of Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, Conservative leader Manion today said he would not discuss politics in the two meetings he is addressing here and in Port William today.

At a luncheon tendered him by Port Arthur Conservatives, Dr. Manion dealt briefly with general issues involved in the war between the democratic and dictator camps.

He told the luncheon meeting he would leave for Ottawa tonight, resuming his previously arranged campaign tour of western Canada later. The only difference was that his western schedule would be carried out three days later.

How to Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose use Macdonald's Hemorrhoid Cream, or any drugstore, a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore tender spots. Hemorrhoid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Empire-wide Tributes Paid

LONDON (CP)—The age and the Empire have suffered a heavy loss.

These editorial words in the London Daily Telegraph in commenting on the passing of Lord Tweedsmuir summed up a spirit that was international. Tributes were paid him as a man with a fine sense of duty to the Empire and the public, as a man of letters and, perhaps most important, as a man.

News of his death was given to the King and Queen when Their Majesties arose. A palace official said the King and Queen had followed the course of Lord Tweedsmuir's illness "with the keenest anxiety."

It was considered probable that many weeks would pass before a successor to the important post in the senior Dominion will be named. It likely will be after the Canadian election.

SUCCESSORS MENTIONED

However, some general consideration had been given the matter in London as well as in Ottawa and among the names more prominently heard here were those of the Duke of Devonshire, the Earl of Elgin, the Earl of Athlone and the Marquess of Aberdeen. The Duke of Devonshire and Lord Aberdeen are sons and Lord Elgin a grandson of former Governors-General.

The words chosen by men and newspapers in paying tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir showed they felt a real sense of personal loss. In far-away Australia Prime Minister R. G. Menzies said this "great writer and great administrator was an almost unique combination in history and vice-regality."

"There was no doubt he brought the most unusual talents to the service of the people of Canada," Mr. Menzies added.

The chief councillor of the little Oxfordshire village of Eilsfield said "we have all lost a real friend." Eilsfield Manor has been the Tweedsmuir family home since just after the last war.

Most of the villagers knew the Governor-General personally, for he loved the country and roamed the moors. The news quickly spread through Eilsfield as plain folk passed the word that "Mr. Buchanan is gone."

SET PRECEDENT

The London Daily Sketch said "the sorrow which will be manifest today throughout the Dominion of Canada at the loss of its Governor-General will be shared by the whole English-speaking world."

"He was the first commoner to wear the King's livery in Canada," the paper said. "It was an experiment which he, by his dignity and understanding, made a complete and glorious success."

The London Daily Express entitled its tribute "The man who never failed." It said Lord Tweedsmuir's life story was "one continual chapter of success."

The Belfast News Letter commented that "we need never despair of the nation while it produces men with such aptitude for public service."

Sir James Irvine, principal of St. Andrews University and one of Lord Tweedsmuir's oldest and closest friends, said: "John Buchanan was one of the most versatile men I have known. His speaking, his writing, his thinking—everything was always done with finish and perfection."

Sir James revealed that John Buchanan the author kept his mind stimulated by working on two volumes at the same time.

"He would have a serious one going and an adventurous novel of 'The 39 Steps' type. If one began to pall, he would turn to the other. In this way he never allowed his work to get the better of him."

Lord Macmillan said he was proud to be one of those "who were blessed by his friendship."

"No word he wrote was morbid or unwholesome," he said. "His death has impoverished a world which now more than ever needs such spirits as his."

All morning newspapers printed long obituary notices.

The News Chronicle, whose headline said simply: "John Buchanan Dead," ended his story with this Buchanan verse:

"And you from time's slow torments free
 Shall pass from strength to strength and scale
 The steps of immortality."

Cancer Pains Eased

VENICE, Fla. (AP)—Two physicians reported today a combination of venoms from two poisonous snakes has been found effective in relieving intense pain from cancer and arthritis and stopping spasms of epilepsy.

Dr. Eugene Maier, laboratory director for the Florida Medical Centre here, reported "promising results" with a mixture of venoms from the rare coral snake and the common cottonmouth water moccasin.

FINNISH TRAP SNARES 20,000 REDS—Finns in the south aped their comrades in the north by trapping up to 20,000 Russian troops through the use of massed artillery in co-operation with daring ski patrols. Map shows Finnish strategy employed against invaders north of Lake Ladoga.

Maurice Colbourne Explains Letter

NEW YORK (CP)—Maurice Colbourne, British actor, who two weeks ago described Canada's theatre as "moribund," has recapitulated his views in a 2,000-word letter to the theatre editor of the New York Times, in which he said: "I wrote as I did because I have a deep affection for Canada and for the theatre."

Mr. Colbourne, who took Bernard Shaw's "Geneva" on a coast-to-coast tour of the Dominion and brought it for a short-lived run on Broadway, which ended Saturday night, denied yesterday he had said that all Canadian amateurs were "exhibitionists."

"Exhibitionism," he said, "is a part of the natural make-up of an actor," but he said if he is "all mere exhibitionism, and no talent" he soon finds himself without work.

He said that he had been delighted with the vitality of the Canadian Little Theatre, and had been trying to suggest merely that it should try to be "a play-going as well as a playacting body." As for the term "moribund," he said he applied it to the road in Canada. To illustrate just how "moribund" the road was, Mr. Colbourne said he had found that "the majority of stagehands (in Canada) were either so out of practice that they had lost their skill, or so new to their craft that they had not acquired skill."

'Yanks Not Coming' Says Youth Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cheers, yells and stamping which greeted demands for continued United States neutrality prompted leaders of the American Youth Congress to propose today that a youth demonstration on April 6, anniversary of the United States' entry into the first Great War, be held.

Taking their cue for some 3,000 shouting delegates at the final Congress session here last night, the assembly of the congress began discussing plans to tell the world that "the Yanks are not coming" again.

The delegates were silent when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt assured them that "I don't think for a minute that the President would do one thing that he thought would bring us into war, because he knows what war is like."

MOSCOW (AP)—President Roosevelt's speech before the American Youth Congress criticizing the Soviet Union as an absolute dictatorship was reported by the Russian news agency, Tass, for the first time today.

Tass declared the audience Saturday received the President's speech coldly and there were attempts to boo when he criticized United States Congress objections to help given to Finland.

Newspapers thus far have not commented on the Washington speech.

The Communist Party newspaper, Pravda, meanwhile, attacked the Dies committee on un-American activities, calling it "a cesspool whither all hogwash against working class organization is poured."

The paper declared the committee's main task was to prepare public opinion and the necessary evidence for illegalization of the Communist Party and the destruction of the C.I.O. in the United States.

Slayers Hunted In Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Police pressed an intensive hunt today for three armed thugs who killed one constable and wounded another when they blasted their way out of a downtown building into which they had broken.

Constable John McDonald, 26-year-old Winnipeg policeman, was killed instantly Saturday night, while Constable Norman Stewart, 22, was shot in the right hand after they surprised three bandits who broke into the Radio Building on downtown Fort Street.

Police arrested one man whom they said they are holding in connection with the slaying. The suspect was taken after a wild automobile chase through city streets which ended when police cruiser cars forced the fleeing car to halt.

Police said they found a .45 calibre revolver, a sawed-off shotgun and a quantity of blood-stained clothing in the car. The clothes were said to have been perforated with bullet holes. One of the bandits was believed to have been wounded.

A report issued by police said the gun battle in which McDonald was killed occurred when the two constables were stationed in the building after suspicious characters had been reported loitering in the vicinity.

After waiting for about an hour, McDonald and Stewart heard someone forcing a washroom window. Soon after they saw three men creep into the premises of the Manitoba Motor League.

DISREGARDED ORDER

The constables ordered the bandits to put their hands up, but instead the thugs dropped to the floor.

Suddenly, the police said, one of the robbers jumped up and opened fire on McDonald and Stewart. The constables returned shots until a bullet hit Stewart's right hand, forcing him to drop his gun.

When Stewart dropped to the floor in search of his gun, the thugs rushed past him, with McDonald in pursuit.

Police said they believed McDonald was struck first in the groin and then in the head when he attempted to continue the uneven battle to prevent escape of the robbers.

After McDonald had fallen, the gunmen smashed a front door glass and escaped in a waiting automobile. Police said a fourth man had waited outside in the bandits' car.

Charge Follows Death of Airman

VANCOUVER (CP)—Clare Morris, 20, faced a charge of manslaughter today following a Sunday morning automobile accident in which a 19-year-old Royal Canadian Air Force recruit was injured fatally.

Aircraftman Thomas F. Gordon, formerly of Winnipeg, died in a hospital an hour after the car in which he was riding with three others overturned in the Kitsilano residential district. His companions were not hurt.

Gordon, who was attached to the 119th Squadron, R.C.A.F., is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon of Winnipeg, and three brothers, Robert and John of Winnipeg and Harry of Port Alice, B.C. Vera and Florence Gordon of Winnipeg are sisters.

INSURANCE INCOME

TORONTO (CP)—The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Canada in its annual statement reported total income for the year 1939 was $1,791,627, with excess of income over disbursements $735,795, compared with $596,097 the previous year. Assets increased by $568,225 to $12,160,415.

B.C. Leaders Pay Tribute

High tribute to the memory of Lord Tweedsmuir was paid today by Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber and Premier Pattullo of British Columbia.

"The name and work of Lord Tweedsmuir will, for all time, be indelibly written in the pages of Canadian history," said the Lieutenant-Governor.

"Lord Tweedsmuir's death is a great shock and a great loss to the Canadian people," he said. "Having occupied the high office of Governor-General, no one could have, to a great extent and with such positive success, entered into the life, the customs, the ideals and the ambitions of the Canadian people."

"An ardent traveler throughout our Dominion, coming in close contact in every phase of life with our people, he endeared himself to one and all, further had their confidence and admiration."

"Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Lady Tweedsmuir and her family in this sad hour."

PERSONAL TRIBUTE

Premier Pattullo, who returned Saturday from the east said: "I would like to express my great personal regret at the death of Lord Tweedsmuir. It was my good fortune to meet Lord Tweedsmuir upon numerous occasions and to learn something of his many qualities."

"It was our governmental privilege to name a magnificent area in central British Columbia, Tweedsmuir Park, in his honor."

"On my recent visit east, I met Lord Tweedsmuir both at Ottawa and at Montreal."

"Lord Tweedsmuir always had a very intense interest in British Columbia and was looking forward to visiting our province in April."

"The sympathy of all our people goes out to the Lady Tweedsmuir and members of her family in their bereavement."

MOURNING ORDERED

The Lieutenant-Governor was advised that public mourning for seven days ending next Saturday night has been proclaimed. All flags were half-mast today.

The armed forces will go into service mourning, military and naval headquarters said. Officers will wear black bands on their arms. Flags on navy ships will be half-masted.

Official actions consequent on the Governor-General's death were taken today. The administrator, Sir Lyman Duff, proclaimed that all officers of state will continue their functions.

The provincial government prepared to issue a special edition of the British Columbia gazette announcing His Excellency's death.

It was undecided today whether there would be a public holiday for the funeral Wednesday.

BRITISH-TURKISH TREATY WIDEN

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain today announced a new Anglo-Turkish trade treaty would go into effect February 19, to remain in force for one year and successive annual periods unless abrogated.

A white paper said the agreement was reached in London February 3.

The trade pact further cemented relations between the two powers, which already have a mutual assistance pact and agreements enabling Turkey to purchase extensive armaments in Britain.

Either nation must not give less than three months' notice to terminate the new treaty.

The pact, modifying and consolidating one concluded in 1936, was signed by Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax and the Turkish ambassador, Tewfik Rustu Aras.

RATIO SET

It provides that British exports to Turkey shall not exceed 80 per cent of Turkish exports to Britain, giving the Turks a favorable balance in their commerce with Britain.

Turkey's trade has been a prize of keen competition between Berlin and London. As a stimulant Britain has diverted her huge tobacco buying from the United States to Turkey.

Disclosure last week that large numbers of German businessmen were leaving Turkey indicated the Nazis were being displaced in the Turkish field.

In addition Istanbul sources disclosed a trade treaty with Italy is near conclusion.

In 1938 Turkey's imports from Britain totaled about $80,000,000 ($365,000,000), approximately one-tenth of all Turkish imports. During the same year she sold Britain goods valued at about $12,000,000.

Germany, Russia Widen Trade Pact

BERLIN (AP)—Authoritative sources today said Russia and Germany had concluded a new and more extensive trade agreement which would be announced officially later today, or tomorrow. They claimed it would be of far-reaching importance, synchronizing the needs of both sides for supplies.

The treaty is said to cover items beyond an $80,000,000 barter arrangement which has been in effect since August 20.

Japan, Holland Seek New Treaty

TOKYO (CP)—The Japanese foreign office announced today that the "necessary steps have been taken" to terminate the Japanese-Netherlands treaty of judicial settlement, arbitration and conciliation August 11, 1940.

The treaty was ratified August 13, 1935.

The spokesman said the Japanese and Dutch governments had agreed to negotiate a new pact before the expiry August 11.

"The sole purpose of terminating the treaty," a spokesman said today, "lies in a desire not to be bound by it in case conversations for treaty revision do not reach a conclusion" by August 11.

That was the date set for termination. The treaty, an accord on judicial settlement, arbitration and conciliation, was concluded April 19, 1933.

The spokesman said "the action has no political significance and does not mean Japan is abrogating the treaty."

However, certain provisions relating to the World Court, of which Japan is not a member, need technical revision because they are unfair to Japan," he said. "Hence, preparations are under way for negotiations."

READY FOR TALKS

THE HAGUE (AP)—The Netherlands and Japanese governments hope to open negotiations soon on a new treaty to replace the treaty of arbitration and conciliation which Japan has terminated, officials said today.

Government circles asserted that no political importance was attached to Tokyo's termination of the treaty.

SCHMIDT LEADER BY FOUR POINTS

Only scoring leader in the National Hockey League maintaining better than a point-a-game clip, Milt Schmidt of Boston Bruins picked up an assist last night to run his total to 39 points in 35 games played.

The second-placed Bryan Hextall of New York Rangers gathered two assists Saturday for a total of 35 points in 37 contests.

The week-end found Murray Armstrong of New York Americans and Bobby Bauer of Bruins ousted from the big seven as Bill Cowley of the Bruins reentered for the first time since early in the season.

'Europe Federation Coming'—Duff Cooper

SEATTLE (AP)—Apparently wearied by a long siege of "one-night stands" on a lecture tour of the United States, Alfred Duff Cooper, former First Lord of the British Admiralty, was en route east today with his wife, the former Lady Diana Manners, after telling a Seattle audience Saturday night that "we will make a United States of Europe" at the end of the current European war.

He said he had designed his post in the Chamberlain government in protest over the Munich pact. He forecast an Allied victory—and said "Finland knows what she is fighting for and loves it."

Telford Repeats Seattle Speech

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mayor Telford publicly reiterated his charge that a "financial dictatorship" existed in Canada, and gave his views as regards war, in an address repeated twice last night in a crowded Fraser Avenue hall.

While 500 stood outside the C.C.F. Club hall, the Socialist mayor reviewed to another 500 within, the speech he made recently before the Washington Co-operative Federation at Seattle. It was this address which later led the Vancouver City Council to endorse a resolution dissociating themselves from the purported remarks of the mayor as regards "financial dictatorship" and his denunciation of war.

Hecklers brought the meeting to its feet several times, and listeners who were unable to gain admittance looked in the windows during the first address. Mayor Telford told them he was not a pacifist, but that if a war was going to be fought everyone should go. He came out in a strong denunciation of the profits of war.

Later the address was repeated by the mayor to an overflow meeting.

The mayor said he did not see why he should be taken to task for his Seattle address when other men high in public life made far stronger statements. He quoted the Dominion Conservative leader, Hon. R. J. Manion, as saying: "Why should we be fighting for liberty in Europe and restricting it at home?"

NOT CHANGING

In reply to a heckler who shouted that those remarks had not been made in the United States, Dr. Telford said he could not change his views just because he crossed the border. He declared he would fight to the last for what he believed to be right.

The mayor quoted Hitler as telling the youth of Germany he needed them. That, the mayor said, was the greatest message Hitler could have given to the youth of Germany, and made them flock into his organization. But in Canada, he said, a situation was being created which is going to be "impossible for our people."

"If we could put as much enthusiasm and determination and co-operation into our fight against depression and unemployment as we are against Hitler—and did against the Kaiser—we would have different results than we have today," he said. "As a matter of fact I believe that our worst enemies are at home and not in foreign lands. We have a financial dictatorship that is affecting your lives and mine."

The mayor believed the causes of war should be investigated and, if possible, removed.

"If they cannot be removed and a fight is inevitable, then I say we should all fight and not some of us stay at home and clean up $1,000,000 dollars."

Honor Memory of Charles Dickens

Seventy members and guests of the Victoria branch of the Dickens Fellowship gathered at dinner in Spencer's Saturday night to pay tribute to the memory of the beloved writer, Charles Dickens.

The dinner is held annually in the week the anniversary of the birthday of Dickens falls. Dickens was born on February 7, 1812.

In proposing the toast "To His Immortal Memory," Sandham Graves spoke of writings by Dickens "which will live forever." If it were possible to recall to life such men as Charles Dickens, who at the age of 24 years wrote the popular "Pickwick Papers," the world would be a much better place in which to live, Mr. Graves said.

Dickens presented complete and rich pictures in even the shortest of his writings, the speaker continued. At 24 he captured the imagination of his country; he was famous on two continents at 30 and he continued to win the love of the entire English-speaking world.

"His words have continued to add to life's color, meaning and dignity ever since," Mr. Graves said. "His memory is ever green."

President of the fellowship, Captain Wilfrid Ord, in proposing a toast to the organization, said that it existed to keep the spirit and soul of Dickens alive in perpetuity.

W. L. Llewellyn proposed the toast "To the Visitors" and Ernest Walter, president of the Vancouver branch of the fellowship, responded. A. W. Arnup, honorary president of the local fellowship, proposed the toast "To the Ladies" and Mrs. R. W. McClung responded.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Walter of the Vancouver branch being present, Dr. G. W. Knipe, vice-president of that branch was in attendance.

A Dickensian character sketch, "Mrs. Nickleby," was presented with Mrs. Wilfrid Ord as "Mrs. Nickleby," Captain Ord as the old gentleman and Miss Clemency Ord as "Kate Nickleby." Miss Ord also rendered vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Phyllis Hick.

Messages of greeting from fellowship branches in many parts of the United States and Canada were read by the president.

Tweedsmuir Honored Victoria Poet

During Lord Tweedsmuir's last visit to Victoria, nearly a year ago, David Grievie Tuckwell, poet, to mark the occasion, wrote and published the poem, "To Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir," containing these lines:

Thought Tweedsmuir be your titled name
 As kindly grace concedes your worth;
 We like to think John Buchan's fame
 Beyond the accidents of birth.

Next day a Government House car drove up to the Tuckwell house and a parcel was delivered containing a signed presentation copy of "Richard Hannay," "The Thirty-nine Steps," "Greenmantle" and "Mr. Standfast," together with a personal note signed by Tweedsmuir saying: "My wife and I are delighted with your verses and the spirit which inspired them. We have had a very pleasant visit here and shall be very sorry to leave."

U.S. PRESIDENT SENDS MESSAGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt telegraphed Lady Tweedsmuir that he was "shocked and greatly grieved" at her husband's death.

"Mrs. Roosevelt and I recall with pleasure and affection, meetings with Lord Tweedsmuir and you," the President said, "and send you our sincere sympathy in your great loss."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull also sent condolences to Lady Tweedsmuir on behalf of himself and Mrs. Hull and an official message of "deepest sympathy" to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

He Gave Inspired Vision—King

OTTAWA (CP)—Following is partial text of a personal tribute to the late Lord Tweedsmuir paid by Prime Minister King in a press statement:

"Canada was proud to have in her midst a great scholar who touched life at so many places and touched nothing which he did not adorn.

"Lord Tweedsmuir's books brought refreshment, enlightenment and solace to hundreds of thousands of our citizens. His speeches, which always enshrined the best thoughts uttered in the best way, were models of matter and form. Whether he was speaking to learned societies, to professional organizations, to old Canadians in the east, or today's Canadians in the west, he gave to them an inspired vision of the strength of democracy and of the true meaning of nationhood. Many a fisherman and farmer, prospector and trapper will mourn, in his passing, the loss of a great-hearted gentleman."

"His experience, joined with his knowledge of history and his intuitive appreciation of the nature of free British institutions, had equipped him ideally as the direct constitutional Canadian representative of His Majesty the King. From the correct conception of that high office he never departed in thought, word, act or deed."

"All his great arts and talents, wherever he was, were devoted to an understanding of the people, and to the interpretation of all that was best in French and English, east and west, new Canada and old Canada."

Sunlight falling on the Sahara Desert in 24 hours is equivalent to the burning of 6,000,000,000 tons of coal, or one-fourth of all the coal that ever has been mined in the United States.

Huddles of Death, Heartrending in China

SAN FRANCISCO—A veteran newspaperman just out of China, John B. Wooster, formerly of the Manila Bulletin, now in business in Hongkong, told here today of conditions in China as a result of the Japanese invasion.

"I was in Peking when the war started and I can tell you no human being can realize what blessings you have here until he has had the experience of war in a nation where people know nothing of its causes, its purposes or what to do about it," he said.

"In Hongkong I walk to my hotel at night and carefully step over the sleeping forms of hundreds of children. The street is their home. Their clothes are the worst of rags and I have seen countless boys and girls clad only in a ragged pair of thin trousers. And it's cold there in winter—beastly cold. Their only hope for warmth is to crowd together in heaps."

"In the mornings they go to the various institutions and stand in line for hours to get a single bowl of rice. Dozens of times I've seen them turned away without a grain. There isn't enough rice. Everywhere there is a dreadful shortage. And inland—conditions are beyond description there."

"I have seen sights that will live in my mind forever—things I only wish I might forget. Small, frail bodies floating down a yellow river—a gaunt father picking at the stony soil to find room for the body of his wife—whole families huddled in death at the roadside."

"I wish it could be possible for me to tell you what the cheapest coin can do to help the starving and the fever-ravaged people over there. Why there's enough food in your garbage pails here every morning to give the rarest feast of all time to countless thousands."

"All I can say is this—every time you smoke a cigarette you have burned up a bowl of rice; every time you take a drink you have consumed the equivalent of a couple of weeks' rations."

COUGARS' DIET CHIEFLY DEER

WASHINGTON — The mountain lion, cougar or panther of the western mountains of this continent finds a defender in Frank C. Hibben, curator of the museum at the University of New Mexico. Basing his assertion on the careful examination of thousands of specimens of food remains, Mr. Hibben declares that livestock constitute only a half of 1 per cent of the food of the mountain lion.

Major items in the big cat's diet are deer. Rocky Mountain mule deer remains appeared in 54 per cent of the specimens examined, white-tailed deer in 28 per cent. Rabbits, of several species, totaled 6 per cent. The mountain lion must be either exceedingly tough-mouthed or highly adroit in handling difficult tidbits, for porcupine is nearly a 6 per cent item in Mr. Hibben's list. No evidence was found that mountain lions ever eat any kind of bird.

The study tends to support modern conservationists' contention that the mountain lion's predations on deer are on the whole beneficial, weeding out crippled, old and sick animals and keeping the stock trimmed down to the fit specimens. Wherever a lion-killed deer carcass could be found not too much dismembered, measurements were taken. It was found in practically every case that the victims had been substandard animals in some respect.

Lord Tweedsmuir

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE CANADIAN Confederation a Governor-General has literally died in harness. This is the Lord Tweedsmuir, His Majesty's representative in Canada, whose untimely passing all the people of the Dominion are mourning today. It is also the death of John Buchanan, author, litterateur, and classicist, which has shocked the Empire and the whole world. And all British and friendly peoples will join in the expressions of sincere sympathy that will go out to the Lady Tweedsmuir and her family in their hour of great sorrow.

It is nearly five years since the senior overseas Dominion and its people welcomed this man and took him to their hearts. In that short time he discovered Canada; he visited the towns and cities, traversed thousands of miles of the sparsely-populated hinterland. Not only did he discover Canada in the physical sense, contemplating its virility and promise with the eye and mind of the poet and the appraisal of the diplomat; he accumulated a knowledge and understanding of the vital Canadian scene unsurpassed by any of his predecessors at Rideau Hall. It was from the thoroughness with which he applied his inherent capacity for analysis and cataloguing impressions, no less than from an appreciation of the significant evolutionary processes from which Canada had so successfully emerged in recent times, that Lord Tweedsmuir obtained his most intimate conception of the average Canadian's thoughts, hopes and aspirations.

His Excellency's fine humanitarian instinct and his catholicity of interest were never more spontaneous and marked than in his ready response to those national appeals in which his voice and pen could play an eloquent part. On these occasions, and, indeed, at any time when freed from the restraining dictum of custom and tradition, it was John Buchanan as well as the Governor-General of Canada who pleaded the cause and invariably assured its victory. Diplomat, soldier, novelist and patriot—Lord Tweedsmuir's versatile accomplishments shed a lustre on his exalted office which will remain undimmed in the pages of Canada's history.

Voyage of Exploration

IT IS ALL TO THE GOOD THAT PRESIDENT Roosevelt proposes to continue to use his good offices in the cause of peace—whether they be applied to the discovery of some means of preventing what has been described as a full-scale war, or whether they shall be used more actively for the purpose of preparing the way for United States participation in the settlement that one day will have to be made. He knows as do his Secretary of State Cordell Hull and his Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles—who is about to undertake an exploratory mission to Europe—the terms on which Great Britain and France are prepared to talk peace with the head of the country chiefly responsible for the world's state today. Theirs is the minimum below which any suggestion they go will be received with suspicion.

Although the present may not appear to be the most propitious juncture to discuss the matter of peace with neutral nations, or to send Mr. Welles to Britain, France and Germany—he is going to Rome as well—it is always the right time for the chief executive of the neighboring republic to impress the rest of the world with the fact that the United States will take an active part in the next peace settlement. Of one thing the rest of the nations concerned will require to be assured by the present or another government at Washington, however, is that the next formula agreed upon shall not be converted into a political football and treated as President Wilson's contribution to world order was treated nearly 20 years ago. If, therefore, some of the European chancelleries are inclined to be skeptical of Mr. Roosevelt's latest plan, such doubts about its wisdom or usefulness can be traced back to historical fact.

Both the British and French governments of course, will treat any inquiries which Mr. Welles may make of them with the utmost courtesy and patience. Mr. Roosevelt could send no more experienced or more tactful official than his Undersecretary of State on so delicate a business. And we may be quite sure that the President's principal object, apart from any domestic political consideration in which the belligerent nations are much less interested than they are in their own future, is the discovery of a means of preventing an extension of the present conflict and a formula which will make its repetition well-nigh impossible.

Neither Fair Nor True

ALTHOUGH IT MAY BE FINDING IT difficult to state a valid reason why the King government should be replaced by an administration headed by Dr. Manion, whether it be composed of Conservatives or of "the best brains" of the country, the Vancouver Daily Province ought to be able to keep the record straight and in accordance with fact. Its evident disregard for actualities is demonstrated by a part of its editorial comment on Hon. Ian Mackenzie's speech last Friday. We quote:

"One of the most serious charges launched against the King government and the department of defence of which Mr. Mackenzie was at the time head, was in connection with the refusal to grant the British government, two years ago, the few acres of Canadian land required for the training of airmen.

"It was well known that it was in the air arm that the British Empire was weakest. It was known that the wide spaces of Canada provided excellent facilities for training aviators. The British government wished to use these facilities; the Canadian government refused it permission and so hampered the preparation for Empire defence. For this action Mr. Mackenzie attempted no adequate defence. Perhaps there is none."

No defence for the attitude which the King government adopted toward the original proposal from Great Britain in May and June of 1938 was required from Mr. Mackenzie or anybody else. Nor was the request as the Vancouver newspaper has interpreted it ever made. What Canada was asked to do—as specifically set forth by Mr. Mackenzie King in Parliament and again when he announced the Empire Air Training Plan last December—is explained in the following extract from the Prime Minister's statement:

"When the matter was broached, speaking on behalf of the government, I immediately said I was sure the Canadian people would gladly have pilots of the Royal Air Force come to Canada for advanced training and would be prepared to provide the necessary facilities, but that I believed they would feel that the necessary establishments should, under terms to be agreed upon, be organized and controlled by the Royal Canadian Air Force, and that the responsibility for their administration should be that of the government of Canada, rather than that of the United Kingdom."

All fair-minded citizens of this country will note a striking difference between what the Vancouver Daily Province describes as something for which the former Minister of National Defence "attempted no adequate defence" and the facts of the situation as explained by the Prime Minister—facts, incidentally, with which Dr. Manion himself has no quarrel.

From the Antipodes

ONCE MORE THE LAND OF THE Pharaohs has welcomed the sons of Australia and New Zealand in a cause which all right-thinking people believe to be just. In the Suez region today one of the greatest armies ever transported from the Antipodes by sea stretched its legs on terra firma after a voyage of 10,000 miles. We are told that the great armada of transports and British warships were anchored "as far as the eye could reach."

What lies before these soldiers from the Southern Cross only the procession of events will reveal. In that part of the Near East which Egypt is the centre of British military and other activity Great Britain and France have assembled a large body of troops and all necessary war paraphernalia. What the aggressors have planned by way of diversion in that sphere we do not know. They may interpret this newest demonstration of the Empire's solidarity—and its will to victory—as they may.

Not Their Job

OUR NEIGHBOR ON THE SOUTH HAS just sent back to Canada a woman because she refused, on oath, to bear arms for the United States. She is Mrs. Alice Aune, who was allowed to enter the United States under an agreement that she would file citizenship papers. She said she would assist the government in any other way—even as a war nurse—but would not shoulder a gun.

Mrs. Aune is not the only woman who feels that way. Most of the others admitted would not touch a gun, even though the United States has casually said they would. And Uncle Sam would have to look a long time to find a corps of native-born American women who would shoulder muskets. The fact is our neighbor does not expect them. That question applies to men applicants for citizenship. In cases such as that of Mrs. Aune, the United States is put in a peculiar light, especially in these days.

Not Selling Stocks

From Winnipeg Free Press

A news item brings back memories of 1914-15 when every few weeks it was necessary to chase down and scotch stories that Red Cross socks, scarfs, etc., were being sold to soldiers by various agents. This alarmed mothers and sisters who were giving the time to knit, for they would hear of some one who knew some one, who knew some one's husband or son who had been charged for some articles that had been donated. Each story grew with its repetition but always it was to the discredit of the Red Cross.

Once and for all the Red Cross, everywhere, is not in the business of selling any of the things donated for the comfort and well-being of soldiers in the field, in hospital, in prison camps or wherever they may be.

The origin of these stories is difficult to trace, but it is quite possible to imagine that a pair of socks or some other article reaching the hands of a man who does not immediately need them—or who wants something else more—may become occasionally the object of informal bartering in the course of which money may change hands. This is outside the scope of the Red Cross or any other agency to check. But it does not affect the fact that every possible care is taken to avoid it, and that the percentage of articles which become the object of these transactions is wholly negligible.

Those who spread the stories lay themselves open to the charge of indulging in gossip which hopelessly exaggerates whatever evil there may be.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

ELECTION GUESSWORK

MIDLAND, ONTARIO.

NOTHING IS SURE in politics, as every student of that strange occupation knows. About the only thing almost sure in this election, so far as Ontario is concerned, is that Agnes MacPhail will be re-elected. In Grey-Bruce, that would have been true even if Mrs. Black had not announced her retirement from politics. But it is more so than ever now. For Agnes' constituents are inordinately proud in having as their representative Canada's only woman M.P.

The Conservatives are going to gain some seats in Ontario. But even if they won the whole 82 they could hardly expect to gather up enough elsewhere to win a clear majority. That is the real reason why the old Tory Party has seized with such avidity on the "national" government label. For the present hope of those who want a coalition government is not to achieve it before the election but afterwards. It is to force its formation by taking so many seats from Mackenzie King that he will be unable to carry on with a stable party majority. In that even the backers of the union government plan assume that Mr. King would prefer to unite with the Conservatives, rather than be dependent on the C.C.F. or Social Credit groups for continuity in office. For everybody, especially Mr. King, remembers that when the Progressives had the whip hand and the balance of power from 1921 to 1925, the little group in the southeast corner had a way of driving a hard bargain when the government needed their votes most.

What complicates the picture in Ontario are these most important elements: The province is basically conservative, always with a small c, whether the Liberals are in power or not, and usually the C is not a small one but a most decided capital letter. In the last election the Liberals won two-thirds of the seats in this historic old Tory stronghold, chiefly because the voters everywhere in Canada were determined to chastise Mr. Bennett for the depression, and for his failure to fulfill his specific promise to find everyone a job. But ordinarily the Conservatives can expect to win two seats to every one the Liberals can hope to hold there. All of which possibly means approximately a 50-seat turnover, and the virtual disappearance of the present vast Liberal majority over all.

MITCH UPSETS EVERYBODY. STRANGELY ENOUGH, the one thing that might be expected to have assured the sharp swing over to the Conservative column had back-fired so badly that it now appears it might operate the other way. That is the Hepburn-Drew vote of censure on the King government. That vote, of course, made it impossible for anyone to support both it and the King government in the election. But so indignant are the ordinary citizens at what they regard as insufferable rowdiness in the face of a great international emergency that thousands of them would appear to me likely to vote for the King government chiefly to put Mitch Hepburn in his proper place.

No one knows that the Hepburn-Drew resolution back-fired badly better than George Drew. I hear from several sources that he has been assiduously passing the word around among his friends that there is absolutely nothing in the way of a bargain or understanding between Mitch Hepburn and himself. Yet the fact that he has felt constrained to do so shows how deep is the impression that there was such a bargain. The strongest weapon that the Liberals will have to use in this weapon against the arguments of those favoring a national government is that the proposal is not only ridiculous, but downright sinister. They will suggest that the reason why the sponsors of the national government idea do not name the names of the supposed supermen who are going to be called upon to form the government is that instead of being supermen these fellows are so small or so distrustful that they could not be elected in an above-board contest if named in advance.

They will suggest, with excellent reason, that the only kind of national government which could come out of the campaign as waged to date would be one in which Mitch Hepburn and George Drew were the key figures.

ALL WELCOME BY MOUSE HOLE. CERTAINLY THE TACTICS of the Conservative Party in the actual constituencies of Ontario indicate the move for a "national" government is just a huge joke. In many cases the executives of the local Conservative constituency machine has met, enthusiastically accepted Mr. Manion's proposals for a national government, and then announced that in pursuance of that policy a completely free and open people's convention would be held at once. The most important words in the whole announcement were of course "at once." For as anybody knows who has had actual experience with the mechanics of politics, nominating conventions do not just organize themselves. People do not just flock out to public meetings of their own accord, even in the best of weather and for the most popular of purposes.

Some of these "national" conventions were announced by Tory machines all set to grind out instantaneous endorsements of the already selected candidate. In some cases the newspapers announcing the "national" convention were not even circulated throughout the constituencies before the conventions themselves were held. In at least one case that came under by personal notice the roads in the constituency were so blocked by snow that the only way the nonpartisan voter could have got to the meeting, even if he had heard about it, was to have secured himself

UP-ISLAND ADVICE ON PARKING IN VICTORIA

To the Editor—

I never heard of such a crazy idea as the suggested new parking regulations in Victoria. Goodness only knows, Victoria has gone far enough in its traffic laws to retard visiting customers from up-island as it is, with traffic lights, stop signs and school slow signs on pretty well every half a block. It's only a small town after all! Why are regulations of larger cities? Wake up Victoria! Take a pattern from Duncan, Nanaimo, Courtenay and Alberni. Do away with some of your noxious parking and traffic regulations. Don't start any new ones, and keep pace with the above towns. Open up Saturday nights. Come to life Victoria and be the busy city you were 25 years ago.

A GREAT HUMANITARIAN

To the Editor:—John Buchanan, Baron Tweedsmuir, was not only a distinguished man of letters, a parliamentarian of no mean ability, a great pro-consul of that particular type such as no other country save Britain since the days of ancient Rome has been able to produce, he was a supreme humanitarian: his sympathies being wide and deep, encompassing all kinds and conditions of men.

SWEDEN'S DANGER

From New York World-Telegram

Sweden would be a rich prize. She is the world's greatest exporter of iron ore. Swedish Lapland, above the Arctic Circle, is said to possess two billion tons of high-grade ore, much of it available through strip-mining. Germany gets more than half of her iron-ore imports from Sweden. If that source were cut off, German arms factories would shrivel up.

Therein lies not only a danger to Sweden, but a safeguard. For if Germany were to throw a blitzkrieg at Sweden, and the blitzkrieg didn't take, the lifeline of the Reich's foundries would be smashed. Sweden has a substantial army, and would certainly get prompt help from England for the asking. Hitler, knowing all that, would presumably consult his astrologer twice before attack.

PEASANTRY?

(Excerpt from the annual report on world trade conditions published by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Amsterdam, Holland.)

In the United States of America there was a beginning of a revival after the sudden rise of the stock market in June. The extension of economic activities rested chiefly on the increased purchasing capacity of the consumers by government expenditure and large public works. Owing to this policy, military expenditure and the measures for the support of the peasantry, the national debt rose still more.

HOW TO MAKE A CHICK TWITTER

From Science

When day-old Rhode Island Red chicks are given 1 mg. of benzidine sulfate subcutaneously they show visible effects of the drug in seven to nine minutes; mouths open, legs become unsteady so that the body falls forward, and the wings droop and spread. The most remarkable reaction is the incessant twitter, or "singing," roughly 220 notes per minute, which continues for 15 minutes to half an hour. All the visible effects disappear in about 45 minutes.

When larger doses (3.5 mgs.) are used, the effects appear in two or three minutes and the rate of twittering is increased up to 300-330 notes per minute. Apparently the drug is eliminated rapidly, as the chicks return to normal inside of an hour.

an airplane or a pair of angels' wings.

I have watched political conventions in Canada for quite a while. Whether they were Liberal, Conservative, C.C.F. or Social Credit made no difference as far as I could see. Customs vary a bit as between province and province, even more than as between party and party. But if I were going to bet about anything in this election it would be this: That the only way anybody but a true-blue Tory, acceptable to the local powers that be, could get into any of these so-called "national government" nominating conventions in Ontario would be through some mouse hole under the piano in the corner.

But in my opinion Mr. King is by far the most astute political technician we have ever had in Canada. He knows that what the voters vote for, in the overwhelming mass of cases, is not the local candidate but for some government. The voters say are you for King or Bennett? King or Meighen? Borden or Laurier? Macdonald or Brown?

Which means in this election King or what?

A HAPPY, PROSPEROUS CAMP BEFORE C.I.O. CAME

To the Editor:—I have been matriarch of the Pioneer Mine hospital since October, 1936, and so feel that I am in a position to state a few facts re conditions here in their true light.

Without a doubt this was, before the invasion of the C.I.O., a most delightful place in which to live. Every sport was catered to; Dr. James and staff did everything in their power to make it one of the best of camps. All people were shown every consideration, and it truly deserved the name, "best camp in British Columbia."

The articles which were printed in the editions of January 27 and 29 by members of the C.I.O. are nothing more or less than gross misrepresentations. I wish the all-important fact that the strikers are no longer in the employment of Pioneer Mine could be understood and fully appreciated by the public. The strike has been proven illegal, so why the "sob stuff"? They, of their own free will, forfeited all rights to any privileges that they had had while in the company's employment.

You would imagine that common decency would force them to leave camp without causing all the expense of evictions. Think, for a moment, of the loss of money to the country and all the other hard-working men and their families, who have been forced to give of their earnings to the support of the union people, who had good jobs and the opportunity to return to work, on terms, mark you, with the non-union men.

As a clear-thinking people, can you imagine any company giving in to the union's absurd demands? The executive of the C.I.O. seem to forget that some men risked their all to develop this and other mines, so that jobs with excellent remuneration could be had by a large number of men.

Men are not, of course, forced to work underground, but do so of their own free will and accord, some from necessity. Nevertheless they chose to do such work to earn a living. The public have heard so many dronings of the terrible working conditions underground, but no word has been said in appreciation of the improvements made in late years in the working conditions. Every employee of the mine is X-rayed annually and has a silicosis check-up. There is also compensation for those who should develop it, which is indeed very rare these days.

The reason that some stick with the union is they have to eat and are not allowed to leave camp. The question "Why don't you pull out?" has been asked of many, and they reply, "We can't, after they have been feeding us all this time." There is even some ridiculous threat of a $500 fine, which is supposedly in the C.I.O. constitution. To my knowledge, it is the executive of the union that has done and is doing all the threatening.

"Hall closed." Why shouldn't it be? It costs money to maintain such a project. It is odd, but the non-union members do not complain, and they are the ones that should, for they are suffering through no fault of their own.

There has been no outward show of violence, but lots of veiled threats. Re the hospital. The doctor and myself are in camp, and all emergency cases and others as well receive the necessary attention. The hospital has heavy overhead expenses, and as the mine is not working there is no reason why it should operate for ex-employees.

This fact is all important, that, in my humble estimation, employees of this camp have received many privileges that are not accorded every mining camp.

TREES AGAINST THE SKY

From Christian Science Monitor
The beech tree is a mass of Val-de-enches lace; the elm is duchesse. The end of each maple branch is a trident and each ash twig a Latin cross. As for the Lombardy poplar, it is a heath broom stuck upside down in a snowdrift. . . . They have lost their leaves, but winter's trees have not lost their beauty. Each retains its individuality, thus to vary as well as beautify the view. Winter, like travail, may alter the superficial appearance, but character, true grace and loveliness remain.

WARSHIPS OFF 'FRISCO?

From San Francisco Chronicle

Maybe, as the papers say, there is a fleet of British warships "spread fanwise" 100 miles off San Francisco, but we doubt it. The ships are supposed to be lying in wait for the crew of the scuttled liner Columbus, now on Angel Island and Germany-bound by way of the Orient. But if the warships actually were there some enterprising excursion-proprietor would by now have a line of launches and tugs carrying the curious to watch the spectacle of a foreign fleet just off the Golden Gate. There are plenty who would pay the price for the trip and the sight. As Will Rogers used to say: "All I know is what I see in the papers." But this time, we fear, he would be assailed by doubts.

Publicity Bureau Report

Figuring on the basis of $100 per car and $12 per head for foot-travelers, it is estimated in the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's annual report, submitted today at the annual meeting by G. H. Stevens, president, that $6,008,550 was spent by tourists visiting Vancouver Island during 1939.

The report showed that 1939 travel to the island surpassed that of all previous years, except 1938 which stood as a record. The difference between the travel of last year and the one previous was less than 2 per cent. Had it not been for a strike of the crews on all United States steamers plying between United States ports and the island, which lasted 24 days during the height of the tourist season and tied up all ships of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, 1939 would have smashed the record, it was stated.

Automobile travel to the island last year totaled 43,314 cars, while in 1938 the total was 44,160. Cars entering through Victoria and Sidney ports numbered 9,582, compared to 12,124 in 1938, a decrease of 2,542, caused by the strike. The report states no definite figures were available on foot travel to the island, but that reports from reliable sources show that over 230,000 persons came to Victoria apart from those in cars. In arriving at the six millions spent, officials discounted 25 per cent of the cars, classing them as returning residents. Conventions brought in an estimated $79,680.

An interesting feature in the annual report shows that California contributed twice as many of Victoria's visiting cars as all the other states in the Union, other than Washington. California cars totaled 3,655, Washington 2,977 and Oregon 1,348. Other individual states were not represented by more than 150 cars each.

Turning to Dominion of Canada figures, the report showed 4,212,816 foreign cars entered Canada in '39, a small decrease over the previous year when 4,346,645 cars entered. Canadian cars leaving Canada numbered 1,010,167, better than 200,000 more than in 1938.

Canadian government regulations making it necessary for U.S. tourists to have been in Canada 24 hours to enable them to take back with them $100 worth of goods, proved harmful to local merchants. It prevented many excursionists from making purchases here.

The bureau's report said winter travel to Victoria continues to show an increase.

PUBLICITY

The publicity department distributed articles, fillers and paragraphs directly and through newspaper and magazine syndicates of all kinds of publications on the continent and overseas. The combined circulation of publications printing local publicity was more than 45,000,000. Frank Giolma, the bureau's publicity writer, had charge of writing and distributing articles. During the year 107,154 pieces of mail publicizing Victoria were sent out. Other editorial activities include the loaning of 284 cuts, the sending of 523 photographs, 75,000 blue folders, 45,000 island maps, 30,000 resort folders and 17,000 blue bird stickers.

The bureau took immediate steps to offset the propaganda being spread in the United States after the outbreak of war which was aimed at deterring Americans from visiting Canada.

Among other things, the report told of 54 billboards advertising the city being placed on the main highways of travel south of the border, mainly 101, 69 and 10 Highways. The bureau contributed $1,000 to the Evergreen Playground Association fund to advertise the Pacific Northwest as a tourist playground. Reports were included on the activities of contact men Phil Raymond and Ivan Beecroft. Commissioner G. I. Warren drove his car 15,000 miles in the interests of the bureau during 1939.

It was pointed out the San Francisco Fair had an adverse effect on travel to Victoria and the island, it attracting many Oregon and Washington residents who usually came to Victoria. But full advantage was taken of the exposition as an advertising medium for Victoria and the province generally.

FOREST PARKS

The report lauds the work of developing island forest parks and waterfalls; offers congratulations to the City Parks Board on the continued improvement of public parks; thanks the B.C. Government Travel Bureau and all other organizations that co-operate with the bureau; encourages the development of the newly-born youth hostel plan on the island; pays a compliment to government and civic officials for their courteousness to visitors; appeals for new photographs from amateur and professional photographers depicting city and island beauty attractions; notes that outstanding visiting journalists gave the city a good spread in their respective papers; points out that nearly one-quarter of the bureau's revenue, $6,000, was distributed among local firms for printing and making cuts; the excellent publicity given to Victoria through the appearance of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team in San Francisco last year, and stresses the fine work done by the bureau staff.

Legion Drive for $15,000 Under Way

Today the Canadian Legion opened its two-week Dominion-wide campaign for $500,000 to enable it to carry on its national war service work. In the words of Brigadier-Gen. Alex. Ross, immediate past president, "this is not an appeal to provide money for comforts—a cup of coffee or a package of cigarettes. It is an investment in Canadian manhood."

J. A. Law-Beattie, zone representative of the Legion for South Vancouver Island, is in general charge of the campaign for this part of the island, and offices have been opened at 642 Johnson Street.

In Victoria, teams of Legion officials will handle the appeal, with C. A. Gill of the Pro Patria Branch as secretary. The objective set for the South Vancouver Island zone is $15,000, and while Legion members themselves expect to raise a large part of this amount, it is hoped that the appeal will be substantially supported by the public at large.

No house-to-house canvass will be made, Mr. Law-Beattie said today, but opportunity will be given to individuals and organizations to contribute. Anyone desiring to do so can make a contribution direct to the campaign office.

EDUCATIONAL

Making it possible for all members of Canada's naval, land and air forces to continue their studies during wartime is the ambitious work being carried out by the Canadian Legion War Services. Lectures and courses of instruction are now being attended by several thousand men in training camps throughout the Dominion and this week legion officers arrived in England to make arrangements for continuance of the service overseas.

Another important undertaking which the legion has assumed involves the creation of independent bureaus for handling the personal problems of the men. The services of the legion in this respect are already in great demand and many soldiers are turning to it for counsel and assistance in connection with purely personal affairs. In most instances these problems are of a nature in which military officials are not concerned and often are of such a personal character that the men prefer not to discuss them with their officers.

From the outset the response which came from every branch of active service indicated that the legion's program would exceed the widest expectations. Not only in point of numbers of men under arms seeking to take up specialized studies, but in the range of subjects chosen, the educational program has assumed unexpected proportions.

In many cities teachers have volunteered to assist with the work. It is intended to utilize films, radio, books, pamphlets and magazines to supplement the direct teaching which will be received in lecture rooms and in vocational training quarters in Canada, England and France.

JOCKEY WESTROPE OUT FOR SEASON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The board of stewards at Santa Anita race track cracked down on several heads Saturday, handing out heaviest punishment to Jockey Jackie Westrope for what was termed "a listless ride" in the second race Friday.

Westrope was suspended for the remainder of the season. Sir Launcelot, a favorite, ran fourth with Westrope aboard Friday.

Jockey Willie Dennis was fined $100 for causing his horse, Wise Father, to bear out in another race. Two other riders were suspended, Apprentice Keith Randall for five days and Jockey Francis Maschek for 10, for improper riding tactics.

School Orchestra Gave Program

The Victoria High School orchestra, under the direction of Alfred Prescott, provided the highlight of the attractive program arranged by the Intermediate branch of the Victoria Musical Arts Society and held in the Truth Centre on Saturday evening.

The performance by the 22 young instrumentalists was of a commendably high calibre, both the individual and ensemble work attesting to careful training and practice and a real sense of musical values.

In addition to the ensemble numbers which included, among others, the Wagner "Tannhauser" selection and the Ivanovitch waltz, "Danube Waves," other enthusiastically received numbers included the trio for violin, cello, and piano, played by Rita Nevard and Phillip and Bernard Hick; the violin solo, "Romance" (Elman), played by Julia Kent Jones; and Elaine Hart's vocal solo, one of the songs from "Tales From Vienna Woods," Marion Miller being the accompanist. There was also a musical quiz arranged by Miss Griffin.

The Intermediate group president, Miss Janet Dobbs, was in the chair, and introduced, and thanked Mr. Prescott and his musicians: Mrs. R. D. McGaw and Miss Beatrice Griffin were present as conveners for the group; Ursula Hilla was the program convenor; and refreshments were served under the convenership of Elaine Basanta.

Miss Betty Cottet Heads Royal Bride Chapter I.O.D.E.

Miss Betty Cottet was re-elected regent of the Royal Bride Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the annual meeting held on Saturday afternoon. Other officers chosen were: Honorary regent, Mrs. P. E. Corby; honorary vice-regent, Mrs. William Ellis; Miss Phyllis Dodsworth, second vice-regent; Miss Davina Dingwall, treasurer; Miss Lucy Huzzey, secretary; and Miss Julia Kent Jones, standard-bearer.

Prior to the meeting, the members stood in tribute to the memory of Mrs. Gordon Smith.

REPORTS GIVEN

The treasurer, Miss Ursula P. Hills, reported that $375.71 had been raised, with total expenditures amounting to $259, leaving a balance of $116.71 in the bank. The chapter's interest centred in secondary education, and toward this fund $100 was given.

Miss Lucy Huzzey, the secretary, reported donations had been made to a Brownie pack; the peace plot; $10 to the national endowment fund; and $2 to the Mary Croft Memorial cot. The chapter made a study of Canada with short talks and quiz contests, and the girls took up the knitting of socks and sweaters on the outbreak of war. Up to date, 30 garments have been completed. At Christmas a hamper was sent to a needy family.

Mrs. Cyril C. Symons, municipal regent, Mrs. Corby and Mrs. Ellis all spoke briefly. Corsage bouquets were presented to Mrs. F. F. Beckett, Mrs. Corby and Miss Cottet, and a pot of tulips was given to Mrs. Ellis, and a box of chocolates to Mrs. R. B. McKicking. Miss Marjorie Delf received a gift as being the most up-and-coming member of the chapter.

It was announced that a St. Patrick's Leap Year dance will be held by the chapter at the Crystal Garden on March 15. Tickets may be obtained from Misses Dorothy Peacock, Barbara Hutcheon, Grace Stuart or Sylvia Petch.

Mothers and friends attended the meeting, at the close of which tea was served.

The Ladies' Club of the Victoria Truth Centre will hold a silver tea Wednesday at the Centre. There will be a stall of home-cooking, a musical program and an exhibition of handicraft, and some very interesting articles have been loaned for the occasion.

Weddings

FRISBY-SVARICH

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, at Christ Church Cathedral, Very Rev. S. H. Elliott, Dean of Columbia, united in marriage Miss Alice Svarich, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Svarich of Vegreville, Alberta, and Mr. Gordon Frisby of Vancouver, son of Mrs. T. G. Frisby of Vancouver and the late Mr. T. G. Frisby.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a black suit of tuxedo material, a black straw hat trimmed with a dusty pink bird mount and dusty pink veil. She wore a dusty pink crepe blouse and her other accessories were in black kid. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids and Columbia rosebuds.

She was attended by Miss Paula Reber of Vancouver, who wore a jacket suit of mulberry wool with hat to match and carried a Colonial bouquet of blue iris and pink snapdragon. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Bert Frisby of Victoria. Mr. Stanley Bulley rendered the music for the wedding.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Frisby of Wellington Avenue. The supper table was centred with a two-tier wedding cake, with pink tulips for floral decoration.

Mrs. Eric Williams presided at the tea urn, and Miss Isla Adams and Miss Betty Lawson assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Frisby left on the midnight boat for Vancouver on their way to spend their honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs.

They will make their home at 1023 Douglas Crescent, Vancouver.

Out-of-town visitors included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Svarich of Vegreville, Alberta; the bride's brother, Dr. Eugene Svarich of Edmonton, and Mrs. T. G. Frisby, Mrs. Eric Williams and Mrs. Mary Mertt of Vancouver.

DUNLOP-LAY

BARRIE, Ont. (CP)—A wedding of wide interest was solemnized in this Lake Simcoe town Saturday when Jean Isobel Lay, niece of Prime Minister King, became the bride of Flight Lieut. Gordon Parker Dunlop of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Trenton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Robert Dunlop of Saskatoon.

Rev. E. E. Long performed the ceremony in the living-room of "Boulderfel," home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Lay, parents of the bride. Groomsmen were Flight Lieut. Norman Peterson, also of the Trenton air base, and the bridesmaid, Rosabel Elspeth Lay, sister of the bride. Miss Anne McKay of Detroit played the wedding music.

Following a reception, the bride and groom left on a motor trip and on their return will reside in Belleville.

HARRISON-PIMLOTT

A quiet wedding took place on February 1 at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. A. D. Reid, when Alice Vera, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pimlott of this city became the bride of Oswald Victor, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Harrison of Vancouver. The bridegroom is a member of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles E. Pimlott. The groom was supported by his brother, Pte. E. (Buddy) Harrison.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left on the midnight boat for a short honeymoon trip on the mainland and upper island.

Soloists will be Elaine Basanta and Keith Littler, and the tea table will be presided over by Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Mrs. Curtis Sampson.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Allister McFarlane and Mrs. Huntley Miller were joint hostesses at a delightfully arranged tea at the home of Mrs. McFarlane, Falkland Road, yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Irene McAdams, who is to be married in Duncan this week to Mr. Cyril Charles Warren. Mrs. J. C. Warren and Mrs. A. W. Greaves presided at the tea table, which was covered with an Italian lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of spring flowers, over which the light from yellow tapers in silver candelsticks shed a soft glow.

Mrs. Roger Phillips assisted the hostess in serving. Guests invited included: Miss Irene McAdams, Mrs. J. C. Warren, Mrs. J. Phillips, Mrs. A. W. Greaves, Mrs. F. E. Cross, Mrs. Roger Phillips (Vancouver), Mrs. W. Saunders, and the Misses Beverly Pearce, Mary Larsen, Winnie Bleasdale, Helen and Alice Parkinson, Phyllis and Irene Williams, and Thelma Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Olson and family of Calgary, have taken up their residence at 2098 Windsor Road.

Mrs. A. J. Ross of Southdown Road, Uplands, left this morning to spend a few weeks in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Robert Blair of Calgary have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Breach, 1204 Hewlett Place, for the past week. They left on Sunday for San Francisco.

Miss Frances Dutton of Vancouver, who sang at the Carl Horthy recital on Friday evening, and who has been the guest of Mrs. C. C. Warn, Government Street, left this afternoon for the mainland. Mr. Carl Horthy returned to the mainland yesterday.

Mrs. S. P. Oliver of Saanich Road entertained a few friends on Tuesday on the occasion of the first birthday of her daughter, Diane. Daffodils and Oregon grape were attractively arranged in the living-room. Assisting the hostess in serving were her two sisters, Mrs. E. Gale of Langford Lake, and Mrs. V. Cave. The guests included: Mrs. C. M. Baird, Mrs. E. Oliver, Mrs. L. Prior, Mrs. P. Lang, Mrs. R. Howard, Mrs. V. Cave, Miss G. Squires, Mrs. E. Gale and Ann and David, Mrs. J. Poirier and Jeanne, Mrs. J. Reside and Margaret and Mrs. J. Oliver and Rita.

In honor of her birthday, Miss P. Hutchison entertained at a jolly party, Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hutchison, Observatory Hill. Dancing and contests were enjoyed, the winners being Miss Betty Austin, Messrs. John and Pat Young, Ken Stanlake, Ian McWatters and Bob Spooner. The supper table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a crystal bowl of pale pink carnations and blue iris with tall blue tapers in silver holders. The guests were: Misses Betty Austin, Joyce Heal, Eva Jones, Marjorie Nott, Betty Young, Messrs. Ian McWatters, Jimmy Miller, Roy Oliver, Bob Spooner, Doug. Lawson, John Young, Roy La Mont, Roy Vyers, Ken Stanlake and Pat Young.

Mme. Eva Baird, entertained about 50 guests at a delightful tea-musical in her studio on Laurel Lane yesterday afternoon. At the close of the informal program tea was served in the dining-room from a table centred with a spring-like bowl of daffodils, lighted by tall yellow tapers in silver candelabra.

Friends of Miss Gladys Nielsen held a surprise party in honor of her birthday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carey, Carnes Street. Games and music were enjoyed, and refreshments served. Those present included the Misses Gladys Nielsen, Margaret Walker, Jean Loudoun, Hene Moore and Jean Taylor, and Messrs. Dave Smith, Jimmy Stewart, Dave Armstrong, Art. Goddard, Maurice Loudoun and Henry Wilson.

Plumblossom Tea at the Empress Hotel, yearly and picturesque proclamation winter is safely in the discard, will be earlier than ever this season. To be held in the hotel rotunda, it is slated for Saturday, February 17. Miss Winnifred Applegate, soprano, will sing songs appropriate to the occasion among flowers that will be fragrant reminders of Victoria had a record open winter. For not only will graceful, almond-smelling sprays of plum blossoms be massed in the rotunda, but daffodils, narcissi, primulas and other spring flowers play their part in this "welcome to spring."

Miss Rhoda Clark, who for the past six years has been a member of the staff of the Department of Mines, and whose marriage will take place early in March, was honored on Thursday afternoon by the members of the department who assembled in the office of Dr. J. F. Walker, Deputy Minister, when the presentation of a silver tea service was made. The gift, which was concealed in a prettily decorated box with color scheme of pink and silver, was surmounted by an orchid corsage. Dr. Walker, when making the presentation, conveyed the good wishes of the members of the staff for her future happiness.

Miss Margaret Dewhurst entertained at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Edith Hall, a February bride-elect. On arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage of gardenias and red roses. The bride's mother was presented with a corsage of red carnations. The gifts were concealed in a basket prettily decorated in red and white, with the color scheme of the room carried out in red and white with spring flowers. Games were later played, the prizes being won by Miss Hilda Hall, Miss Shirley Farnsworth and Mrs. C. Crabbe. Refreshments were served from a table covered in a lace cloth and centred with a vase of red and white carnations. Assisting the hostess was Miss Jane Hall and Mrs. F. Dewhurst.

The Misses Lea Noble, Hilda Hall, Shirley Farnsworth, Grace Hall, Jeanne Osgood, Thine Hall, Edna Beckerley, Edith Hall, Margaret Dewhurst, and Mesdames Noble, Hall, Crabbe, Clunk, Sewell, E. Crabbe, Hoc-evan, Stark, Dewhurst and Hall.

Juvenile Group Is Heard in Recital

The monthly meeting of the juvenile branch of the Musical Arts Society was held on Saturday afternoon with the president, John Beckwith, in the chair.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and adopted. The president announced that a concert would be given at the Empress Hotel on February 14. The meeting was then given over to the program convenor, Joy Berman, who announced the following items:

Piano solos by Catherine Clay, Doreen Knott, Yvonne Davidson; vocal solos by Mavis Nattrass, Sheila Beckwith and Carol Thomas; violin solos by Priscilla Peebles. Nancy Kyle, guest soloist, played two delightful cello numbers.

At the close, refreshments were served under the direction of Ruth Gray.

The ladies of the congregation of the Fairfield United Church have formed a war service unit in conjunction with the local Canadian Red Cross Society. At a recent meeting of the unit 30 members were present, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. W. H. Yardley; secretary, Mrs. E. Thomson; social convenor, Mrs. R. Husband; convenor of work, Mrs. L. Benson; sewing examiner, Mrs. W. C. Warren; knitting examiner, Mrs. Murphy. It was decided to hold meetings twice monthly, when work will be issued and received. It is expected that an evening group will also be formed for those unable to attend in the afternoon.

Solarium's Most Urgent Need Isolation Unit

Says Dr. J. D. Hunter, President, at Annual Meeting; Financial Difficulties Reviewed, and Need of B.C. Crippled Children Program Emphasized in Reports

"Our most urgent need at the present time is an isolation unit, but lack of funds has so far prevented any such addition," Dr. J. D. Hunter, president of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, noted in his address given at the annual meeting held this afternoon in the Empress Hotel.

FINANCE DIFFICULTIES

Dr. Hunter reviewed the difficulty of financing operating expense in the last two years, despite the most rigid economy, quoting the following figures: In 1937 wages and salaries aggregated $21,996. In 1938 these items increased to $28,200, and in 1939 to $27,931, an increase in 1939 over 1937 of $5,936. On the other hand receipts from provincial government grants in 1937 were $20,481 in 1938, in 1936 $16,306, and in 1939 $14,904; and municipal grants in 1937 were $9,540, in 1938 $7,020, and in 1939 $6,986, showing a reduction in these two items in 1939 as compared with 1937 of $8,131. This, with increase in salaries and wages of $5,936, made a difference in financing of $14,067. In 1937 donations and bequests aggregated $8,276, in 1938 $11,033, and in 1939 $14,094, an increase in 1939 over 1937 of $5,818, but in spite of this increased generosity on the part of the public we showed a deficit in 1939 of $3,806, and a deficit in 1938 of $9,242, the president noted.

STAFFS EFFORTS

Material progress had been made, however, and through the efforts of Miss S. D. Andrew, the lady superintendent, and her staff, the sum of $420.30 was raised in small donations, and the much-needed laundry building erected, with a great saving of time and money. Repairs to the nurses' home and main building had been effected at a cost of $900 and a fully-equipped dental room installed at a cost of $400. Dr. Glenn Simpson, medical superintendent, noted that "Our efforts during the year have resulted in a continuation of that steady flow of handicapped children (which has now reached the imposing total of 900) returning to their homes with their disabilities reduced to as low a percentage as possible and much better fitted to reach maturity in a normal, healthy, happily adjusted manner."

Statistical figures for the year showed: Admissions, 72; discharges, 74; patients treated, 129; average number of patients per day, 63; number of patient days, 23,148; children admitted from mainland, 28; children admitted from Vancouver Island, 44; consultations, 265; operations, 45 (plus 84 plaster casts); physiotherapy treatments, 7,530; dental treatments, 53; laboratory examinations, 2,921; X-ray examinations, 301.

URGES B.C. PROGRAM

After suggesting that the time was ripe for a crippled children program in British Columbia and the need for a triple alliance of treatment centres, organized preventive work and a comprehensive system of after care, Dr. Simpson concluded: "There is a danger that the emotional tension associated with war may push the needs of the child into the background. With the necessity of shouldering increasingly large war expenditures, the danger is imminent that funds available for child health work may become diverted. It is a direct challenge to us all to see the work of child health in this province is not overlooked."

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The audited statement presented by the treasurer, Charles Williams, showed total revenue to be $51,432.28, and expenditures $55,238.95, representing a loss for the year of $3,806.67. Various grants from the provincial government amounted to $14,904.10; from the municipalities, $6,986; while income from other sources, such as donations and bequests, and income from endowments totaled $17,750.4.

Miss Andrew, the lady superintendent, gave the staff report, noting three changes during the year. She referred with appreciation to the additions to the Solarium in the shape of a "neatly-equipped dental room which is going to be maintained by the Victoria Dental Nurses; a fracture table presented by the Venture Club, and thanks to the efforts of our newly-formed Solarium Junior League our treatment room has been brought up to modern standards. They also have provided two new metal tray trolleys, new chairs, a wheelchair and an abduction frame."

OTHER REPORTS

Miss Jean Graham, teacher in charge of the Solarium school, noted 40 patients were attending daily, and referred to the need for a schoolroom, library and workroom. The Solarium W.A. in its comprehensive report told of 196 knitted garments, and 372 other garments made up during the year, and of the linen shower, which netted 110 pieces of linen and additional cash to replenish supplies. The W.A. helped to raise money to buy a much-needed electric sewing machine for the Solarium, and also raised $227.50 for the laundry fund, and an additional $100 for the general upkeep.

Miss Margaret Vantreight, president of the Junior League, reviewed the activities of this energetic young group in supplying necessary equipment for the Solarium. Prior to the opening of the meeting, a standing tribute was paid to the memory of the late Lord Macdougall. Tribute was also paid to the late Dr. H. E. Young.

EXPENDITURES OF BUREAU $26,694

Expenditures of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau for 1939 totaled $26,694.74, according to the financial statement issued at the annual meeting today. The bureau finished the year with a cash balance of $213.06. Total receipts for the year were $26,907.80, including a bank balance from the previous year of $594.57. Receipts included a grant of $20,000 from the city, $250 from Oak Bay, $7,055 from subscriptions.

Among the larger items listed in the disbursement column were $6,243 for salaries, $6,289 for printing and cuts and $3,733 for contact men and work $1,772 for billboards, $1,000 to the Evergreen Playground Association, $1,200 for publicity writing and $1,645 for postage.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—A disturbance centred off Queen Charlotte Island is sending strong winds with rain on the British Columbia coast. Metropolitan Y.P.S. Hosts to Sailors Sixty men of the H.M.S. Naden were guests of the Metropolitan Young People at their meeting last week. A welcome was extended to them by Kenneth Priestly, president, and by Bert Simpson, who acted as master of ceremonies.

There were several guest artists present who provided entertainment. Faye Smith played the piano-acordion. Ilace Roskelly gave three amusing impersonations. Mrs. J. Townsend sang two solos. A quartet composed of F. Tupman, J. Townsend, F. Harmsworth and J. Oakman sang three songs. Piano accordion duets were played by Victor Ash and Seaton Rednap. An entertaining one-act play was presented.

Members of the society who took part in the entertainment were Mabel McCartney, who recited, and Kenneth and Leslie Priestly and Roy Clements sang in a trio.

Helen Robinson, social convener, was in charge of refreshments, and was assisted by members of the church in the Women's Association, Fidelius Group.

The tea held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Carr, Tyndall Avenue, Gordon Head, in aid of the Gordon Head P.T.A. funds was an outstanding success. The guests were received by the hostess, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. M. W. Dawson, president of the Gordon Head P.T.A.

The three large rooms were crowded with guests, the decorations being plum blossom and daffodils, giving the house a spring-like air. Mrs. Huss was in charge of the dining-room, assisted by Mrs. Playfair and some of the bigger girls from grade 8. Pouring tea were Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Chas. Grant and Miss O'zard. Taking part in the program were Betty Lou Playfair, Beverley Hamilton and Dorothy Drury.

During the afternoon the guests had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Nellie McClung speak, taking the constitution of the P.T.A. and its aims for the basis of her talk. The raising of home-life standards, she said, did not depend on finances alone. New drapes, new dishes, new furniture made a home attractive, but good talk over the dinner table is more important than any of these. "Give your children happy memories and that is something which we can all do," she spoke of the spiritual needs of the child and wondered why we are so diffuse and indirect in our methods of teaching religion. In education, we send them to school for definite hours with brainy people to guide them, but in religion we vaguely trust to a system of exposure. Looking at the countries where religion has been thrown overboard, we see that when religion goes, the common decencies of life go, too, she said.

About 40 members came from nine other P.T.A.s, those represented being Sir James Douglas, Monterey, Cedar Hill, Margaret Jenkins, James Bay, Quadra Willows, Oaklands and Mt. Douglas High, Mrs. Day of the Federation and Mr. Percy E. George, president of the Victoria P.T.A. council, and of the Victoria School Board; also three former teachers of the Gordon Head school, Miss O'zard, Mrs. Dowell and Mrs. Goodwin, were present.

Home cooking was soon sold-out and the receipts for the afternoon to certain donations, amounted to $29.35.

CHOIR NAMES OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the choir of St. Martin's-in-the-Field Church took place recently. A report was given of the activities for the past year, which showed that the undertakings of the year were successfully accomplished. Votes of thanks were tendered to Mrs. C. Boam, choir mistress, and Mrs. Wm. Gilbert, organist, for their untiring efforts and unstinted loyalty in connection with the choir.

The following were reinstated as officers: Connie Holmes, president; May Jamieson, secretary; treasurer, and Betty Clegg, librarian. Mrs. J. Frev was appointed wardrobe mistress, her two assistants being Mary Burns and Maureen Bailey.

Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association will hold a Valentine tea in the auditorium of the school next Friday from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Rebekah unit of the Red Cross will meet in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Douglas Street, on Wednesday at 2 p.m. A good supply of wool is on hand.

Capitulates at Least To Beauty Treatment

Greta Garbo

NEW YORK—Shortly before she boarded the train here for Florida, Greta Garbo, famous for her reliance on sun and sleep as beauty aids, capitulated to the enticement of Erno Laszlo, a cosmetic expert, and had her first "private life" beauty treatment. She confided she had never before owned a jar of cold cream, except for studio use.

In the evening Garbo shone herself in street dress and flat heels into the exclusive Monte Carlo, where muffs is never worn. Her escort was Benjamin Gaylord Hauser, nutritionist, who advises people about their diets and who, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association, claimed to have cured himself of tuberculosis of the hip by taking lemon juice.

Later, they went to the St. Regis, where they sat on the cocktail balcony outside the Irldium Room and Garbo toyed with an avocado pear salad. Hauser left for Florida with Garbo as her escort.

Dean Makes Plea For Old Country

Dean Spencer Elliott was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Oak Bay United Church A.O.T.S. Club. He chose as his subject "A Plea for the Old Country."

In the course of his address he answered certain criticism of the British policy in the prosecution of the present war and also her policies in regards to South Africa, India and Ireland.

The Dean remarked that there was no comparison between the atrocities committed by the Germans during the present conflict and any treatment by the British of any conquered nation.

The speaker went on to say that the employers of England did not want to grind down the poor. This was clearly shown by the housing schemes in Leeds, Sheffield, Manchester and Warrington, all old parishes of the speaker.

It was felt by the speaker that there was undue criticism, especially from some countries of Britain's effort to rid Europe and the world of Hitlerism.

The meeting closed with a discussion of plans for a concert to be held on April 3 at which the Victoria Masonic Choir will sing.

SHORT WAVE CLUB
On Friday evening the Victoria Short Wave Club's annual banquet will be held March 16. An interesting and informative talk was given at the last meeting by A. Nesbitt on "Hydrography."

Comparison was made in the speed and accuracy of old and modern methods of sounding. It was shown by diagrams how modern echo sounding devices operate, how surveyors fix locations by triangulation from land and ships, and the part played by aerial photography in contour and topography mapping. The speaker had a number of photographs to illustrate his points.

Lord Tweedsmuir Liked Victoria, Which Loved Him

Flags in Victoria — which Lord Tweedsmuir knew better and loved more than any Canadian city, with the exception of Ottawa and Quebec — flew at half-mast today in tribute to a man who had spent many pleasant, informal days here, visiting old school mates, taking long walks along the waterfront, calling on the bedridden in hospitals and enjoying the sunshine and flowers of early spring, when the east was still under snow and ice.

It was last April 4 that His Excellency took his final farewell of Victoria, to which he had endeared himself in many ways. He had spent two weeks at Government House as a guest, with Lady Tweedsmuir, of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber.

The visit had been as quiet and informal as possible, because His Excellency had not been well and was anxious to rest before welcoming the King and Queen to Canada two months later.

His greatest joy in Victoria was walking. He hiked across country and along the waterfront, unknown to many persons, he passed. Occasionally he stopped to talk with a farmer or a couple of children returning from school. One morning, in tweeds and stout shoes, accompanied only by a small dog, he left Government House and walked along the waterfront.

He was known to the congregations of Christ Church Cathedral, St. Andrew's Presbyterian and First United Church, alternating between them for divine service on Sunday mornings. Often he read the lesson and held informal receptions outside after the services.

He visited the Jubilee Hospital last March and for hours walked through the wards, conversing mostly with old soldiers. Later he was refreshed with a cup of tea in the Nurses' Home.

One day he and Lady Tweedsmuir went up-island and spent a happy day with the children at the Solarium and Fairbridge Farm, both institutions deeply interesting His Excellency.

On his last visit, also, he saw something of lumbering and logging on the B.C. coast. With E. C. Manning, chief forester, he went on the forestry department's cruiser along the eastern coast of Vancouver Island.

His Excellency loved fishing and never was so happy as when on the sunlit waters of Saanich Arm. Last time he was here he caught six grise, which he proudly served his entourage for breakfast next morning at Government House.

At the end of March he was cheered to the echo by 600 Boy Scouts at Beacon Hill Park, and he smiled and waved in return. As Chief Scout of Canada he went to the great outdoor gathering and presented Medals of Merit to three boys who had distinguished themselves.

Members of the Burns Club were most proud of their fellow Scotsman and loved to have him among them. He went to their monthly meeting last March. He attended also a dinner of the Vancouver Island Pipers' Association at the Empress Hotel and listened to bagpipe selections for more than an hour.

One fine spring afternoon he slipped away quietly in a Government House limousine and spent several hours at Hatley Park. He thought it the most delightful residence he had ever seen and told friends he would like to live there — "If I could afford it." As a matter of fact, it was rumored he intended to lease it, when he retired from office this fall, and live there during the war.

The last time he was here he attended a meeting of the executive council of the government and later visited Premier Pattullo and his cabinet.

An old schoolmate of His Excellency, who is deeply grieved at his passing, is Mrs. J. C. Motion, Maple Street, with whom he had a long talk when he was here a year ago.

His train was delayed by landslides in the Rockies and a public reception at the Parliament Buildings was canceled. He came here from Vancouver by H.M.C.S. Skeena, and spent 10 days on the island.

He inspected the Canadian Naval Barracks, dockyard and the drydock at Esquimalt, and went to Hatley Park and had tea on the terrace with the late Mrs. James Dunsinuir.

Late one afternoon he went to Beacon Hill Park and planted a tree in the Mayor's Grove. He visited the Canadian Legion and talked of war days with the veterans.

Up-island, at Campbell River, he fished with Gen. Noel Money and cruised on His Honor's yacht, Vencedor.

Returning to Victoria he spent a few quiet days at Government House and left August 25 on H.M.S. Apollo for Vancouver.

Tweedsmuir's Hair Overcome By Grief

ALDERSHOT, Eng. (CP) — Lieut. John Buchan, who becomes the second Baron Tweedsmuir of Elsfield, was awakened shortly before 1 a.m. 15 p.m., P.S.T. Sunday and informed of his father's death.

He had thrown himself fully dressed on a small military cot in his modest billet to snatch a brief nap and as usual left word to be called at any moment the news arrived from Canada.

When the message from the London bureau of The Canadian Press was delivered to him he was stunned with grief. It had been a day of hope for him and as late as Sunday morning he had said "I think now my father will pull through all right."

Tweedsmuir's Death Loss to Empire

Late Governor's Career Crowded With Varied Events

Author, soldier and administrator, Baron Tweedsmuir (John Buchan) came to be recognized early in his career as one of those figures who leave on an age the definite imprint of their work.

The man who died in Montreal yesterday was born a Scotsman, reared among the rolling hills, the gorse-grown moors and quiet, fertile valleys of the Scottish borderland. His father, Rev. John Masterton Buchan, was minister of the Free Church at Broughton Green, in Peebles-shire.

Lord Tweedsmuir's sister, Anna Buchan, once quoted a family friend as saying: "It's not blood the Buchans have in their veins; it's ink." Of whatever consistency, his life-stream drove him to prodigious activities in literature. His writings are marked by diversity and sustained quality. Before he became Governor-General of Canada in 1935 he had written nearly 60 volumes, ranging from biographies to history, belles lettres and romances.

His first attraction was towards law, and public life also beckoned him. Indication of his bent was given when in 1899 he was elected president of the Oxford Union, while two years later he was admitted to the English bar, in the Middle Temple. He was destined, however, to acquire fame in a sphere other than law. He had already published some works while at Oxford, and he enjoyed a certain prominence as an earnest and thoughtful scholar. However, prospects opened up before him of service in another capacity, and in August, 1901, he went to South Africa as secretary to Lord Milner.

He was associated with that great pro-consul of Empire during the difficult years following the Boer War, and returned to England enriched by his experience. But he had abandoned his desire for eminence in law and, on the promptings of an Oxford friend, Thomas A. Nelson, he joined the publishing firm of Thomas Nelson and Son, London.

Installed in the active management of the company, he was responsible for many of its successes, while at the same time he continued to write books. Biographies, novels, history poured from his tireless pen, and, the outbreak of the Great War did not do more than interrupt his work temporarily.

INFORMATION DIRECTOR

Liaison officer between British general headquarters and later director of information for the British government, he brought to his duties all the indefatigable enthusiasm with which he entered all his activities. His business connection continued throughout, and he enlarged its scope. He was a member of the committee set up by The London Times to examine the typography of the paper, he became a director of Reuters, and, in general, pursued his course in the field of writing, of news and publishing.

Member of the British House of Commons in 1927 for the Scottish universities, Lord High Commissioner to the Church of Scotland in 1933 and 1934, appointed Governor-General of Canada in 1935, chancellor of Edinburgh University in 1937, he was a man upon whom were showered many honors. Universities and learned societies bestowed on him standard marks of high distinction. In 1932 King George V vested him with that exclusive badge—a Companionate of Honor.

In his career of concentration on literature, his achievements were the reward of diligence, of application and conscientious work; and John Buchan—or Lord Tweedsmuir, as he became in 1935—a name synonymous with devoted industry and honorable accomplishment.

In 1907 he married Susan Charlotte, daughter of the late Hon. Norman Grosvenor, herself a writer of considerable charm. Four children were born, three sons and one daughter.

THIRTY-NINE STEPS

Gastric trouble prevented John Buchan from proceeding on active service early in the last war. It was while he was confined to bed that he wrote the detective novel, "The Thirty-nine Steps." He "thought it might amuse the soldiers." Later, his health improving, he joined the British headquarters staff.

Lord Tweedsmuir cherished warmly the memories of his military service. "Nothing makes for deeper understanding among men than to have fought in a campaign," he said in one of his Canadian addresses. He recalled modestly that he had himself served "as a trooper in the Rand Mounted Rifles" during the South African War.

"I am never so happy," he confessed on another occasion, "as when I am among old soldiers—with them I feel entirely at home."

He was wont to speak with pride of his old regiment, the Royal Scots Fusiliers, whose Great War history he had written. Of all his literary tasks, he admitted that to record the story of a battalion which had served in the conflict from 1914 to 1918 "was the most baffling."

Writing books became his education, work, amusement and recreation all in one. His mind stored with the most varied knowledge, endowed with a keen imagination and a facility of expression, he wrote with great rapidity.

He wrote illuminatingly on many topics. His biography of Sir Walter Scott—his favorite novelist—stands as one of the best. He produced his classic life of Cromwell, portrayed Montrose in a manner that elevated this ill-starred nobleman high above contemporary figures. Interpreted Julius Caesar in a vignette that disclosed the biographer's complete familiarity with Roman history, and was introductory only to his greater work on Augustus. He concluded "Augustus" when he was Governor-General—a monumental work, the manuscript of which he ended with the phrase of thanksgiving, "Laus Deo!" It had engaged him for several years, and its completion gave him the highest satisfaction. The manuscript he presented to the library of McGill University.

"Prester John," "Courts of the Morning," "Greenmantle," "Hunttower," "The Three Hostages" and his many other works of fiction are what he intended them to be—eminently diverting. He once said the idea for "Greenmantle" was suggested "by the adventures of my friend, Lawrence"—Lawrence of Arabia.

"A MERRY HEART"

Of Lord Tweedsmuir a well-known English reviewer said "John Buchan carries a merry heart and wherever there is adventure to be found his imagination is first. He cares less for the adventures of the soul, portrayed in certain types of modern fiction, than the adventures of romantic warrior spirits."

Until he became Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir's public career was devoid of the spectacular, if one excepts the occasion when he was elevated from plain John Buchan to the peerage. His early life was one of industry. A son of the manse, he had all the youthful Scot's eagerness for learning, and the course he pursued did not differ from that taken by many of his fellow-countrymen. By winning bursaries he was able to enter and maintain himself at Glasgow University, and from there he proceeded to Brasenose College, Oxford.

It was at Oxford that he wrote his first book, "Scholar Gypsies," a prose-pastoral of his beloved Tweedside expressing a love of nature and a quality of writing which have been likened to Wordsworth and Thoreau.

COMES TO CANADA

Canadians, who were not acquainted with the name of John Buchan, were pleased when Prime Minister Bennett announced in 1935 that the Earl of Bessborough would be succeeded by Buchan. For a while there was some speculation on the problem of royal representation in Canada being entrusted to a commoner. Tradition and custom had endowed this office as a prerogative of royalty itself or, at least, as that of the hereditary aristocracy. These speculations were resolved when King George VI elevated John Buchan direct to the peerage, creating him first Baron Tweedsmuir of Elsfield.

In his title were combined the names of his two homes—Tweedsmuir, a quiet little hamlet in Peebles-shire, Scotland, near the source of the River Tweed, and Elsfield, his residence in Oxfordshire.

Lord Tweedsmuir took the oath of office at Quebec on November 2, 1935. His appointment was welcomed with expressions of highest satisfaction from the press and the public of Canada. In the past they had had as Governor-General some of the great pro-consuls of Empire: never had the office been vested in one whose claim to recognition was based on literary achievement more than any other element.

Governor-General Spent Many Happy Days in Victoria

ALWAYS INTERESTED

From the beginning His Excellency revealed that side of his nature which explained his success. Nothing in Canada was too small or too unimportant to interest him; and chiefly he was interested in people. He was in great demand by public bodies. Speech-making came easily to him. The diversified character of his experience and his wide knowledge of men and books equipped him to adorn any subject on which he talked. His deliveries were clothed in pleasing language, and pronounced with an accent which combined the cultured tones of Oxford and the soft, drawing modulations of the Scottish borders.

He traveled far and wide in Canada. In 1937 he journeyed by airplane to the far north, visiting Akivik, at the mouth of the Mackenzie River and Coppermine, one of the trading settlements on the Arctic Ocean, and finishing with a stay in British Columbia's new Tweedsmuir Park. He was interested in everything that came under his notice, and in public addresses subsequent to his trip pictured Canada's northland as a place towards which the youth of the country should look for opportunities in the future.

In the summer of 1938, Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir made their first trip home to England since His Excellency's appointment. They spent three months abroad. The Governor-General at that time canceled a planned tour of western Canada, which, however, he carried out in August, 1939.

HOMES TO THEIR MAJESTIES

Most stirring event at Government House in 1939 was the visit of the King and Queen. Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir were Canada's official host and hostess to Their Majesties during their stay in Ottawa of two and a half days. While at Rideau Hall the King entertained at a state dinner and later the King and Queen held an official garden party on the lawns of Government House.

While the Royal Couple were touring Canada, however, Lord Tweedsmuir temporarily was without his status of King's representative and he and Lady Tweedsmuir sojourned at their summer home, the Citadel in Quebec, and at a fishing camp in the Maritimes.

When the Royal yacht sailed from Halifax, the Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir boarded the vessel to bid their final farewell to the King and Queen. As the white Empress of Britain steamed from the harbor Their Excellencies waved from the roof of the shed amongst unofficial crowds. Then they returned to Quebec on the train used on the Royal tour.

WAR PROCLAMATION

When Canada declared a state of war existed with Germany on September 10, Lord Tweedsmuir signed the proclamation in his official status—the most significant document he ever signed as Governor-General of Canada.

He paid a formal visit in the fall to a Royal Canadian Air Force depot in Ottawa, which was the first military unit he inspected after war broke out.

Later he toured the defences on the east coast and inspected troops in some sections of Nova Scotia.

In January His Excellency went to Montreal and participated in the formal installation of Dr. F. Cyril James as principal of McGill University.

On January 25 he formally opened the sixth session of the 18th Parliament and read the Speech from the Throne which dramatically announced an election would be held.

Then four hours after the opening he signed the order-in-council which dissolved Parliament.

CAREFUL OF HEALTH
Lord Tweedsmuir had to be careful of his health during his stay in Canada, but had no serious illnesses until the accident on February 6.

Last fall he visited New York for a few days for a medical check on his health and returned to Ottawa apparently having received a satisfactory report.

When Lord Tweedsmuir became gravely ill and was taken to a Montreal hospital, only one son, Hon. Alastair Buchan, was at home. He held a lieutenant's commission in an Ottawa unit of the Canadian Active Service Force.

Hon. John Buchan, another son, went overseas with Canada's First Division as a staff officer with Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, the Canadian commander.

Hon. William Buchan, the third son, is married and resides in England. The only daughter, Mrs. Fairfax-Lucy, also lives in England. Her husband serves with the British army.

Three years ago Lord Tweedsmuir's mother, Mrs. Helen Buchan, visited her distinguished son at Rideau Hall and returned home later the same year. Mrs. Buchan died two years later in Scotland.

During his sojourn at Rideau Hall, Lord Tweedsmuir entertained many world figures. To what extent—if any—his influence was exerted in the cementing of closer relations between Canada and the United States is a matter of speculation. Cordell Hull, American Secretary of State, visited Government House, returning the visit paid by the Governor-General to Washington some months previously.

Among many others who enjoyed His Excellency's hospitality were Prince Chichibu of Japan and his wife.

Lord Tweedsmuir pays a visit to Esquimalt navy yards. Commander C. T. Beard, officer-in-charge of the dockyard at that time, is at the extreme left.

Canadians Mourn Great Statesman

By the Canadian Press
Canadians from the Atlantic to the Pacific joined with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and representatives of other countries today in paying tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir.

Soon after the Governor-General's death at Montreal last night, Mr. King spoke over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, recalling that Lord Tweedsmuir "knew the Canadian people as few, if any, Governors-General knew them before" and that the Canadian people "learned to know him and to hold him in unsurpassed affection."

"To his great task Lord Tweedsmuir brought wisdom, experience, the grace of words and a generosity of heart which found expression in a wide human sympathy and understanding," the Prime Minister said.

Sir Gerald Campbell, British High Commissioner to Canada, said Great Britain "joins with Canada in mourning the loss of a most distinguished citizen of Empire and a very human man who, in good health or bad, disdained to spare his strength in the exercise of his official duties, and who, in his personal relationships, endeavored himself to all who had the privilege to know him."

James H. R. Cromwell, United States minister to Canada, spoke of the Governor-General's "outstanding qualities of mind and character," and said he "will long be mourned by all English-speaking peoples."

Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff of the Supreme Court of Canada, before he took over temporarily the duties of the Governor-General, said that "we shall remember the self-forgetfulness with which he lavished his talents and his energies in helping forward every good cause."

LIVES IN HISTORY
Hon. R. J. Manion, national Conservative leader, speaking first in English and then in French from Fort William, told the CBC audience that Lord Tweedsmuir "had endeavored himself to Canadians of all classes, creeds and political beliefs."

"Apart from his official life in Canada," Dr. Manion said, "His Excellency will live in history as John Buchan the author, who through his historical works as well as his novels brought much joy and pleasure to people in all parts of the world."

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, declared in an address from Quebec, that Canada has lost "a friend who devoted himself entirely to its service with remarkable intelligence and tact."

"One wishes that he might have been permitted to carry to its natural conclusion his work as Governor-General of Canada, which post he so ably and delightfully filled," said Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews of Ontario, and other lieutenant-governors sounded similar notes.

Lieutenant-Governor B. W. LePage of Prince Edward Island said Lord Tweedsmuir's career "has been marked by great industry and notable achievement," and Sir Eugene Fiset, Lieutenant-

Officers Keep Vigil At Viceregal Bier In Montreal Chapel

MONTREAL (CP) — The body of Lord Tweedsmuir lay in a funeral parlor here today while Canadians prepared to pay tributes of honor and affection to the man who had lived with them.

The Governor-General died at 7:13 last night from the effects of a blocking of an artery in the brain and a fall in which he suffered concussion. He had been unconscious since he was stricken at Government House last Tuesday, and three operations, one at Ottawa and two here, failed to save him.

Officers of the Canadian Grenadier Guards kept watch over the body from the time it was moved from the Neurological Institute, and will continue the vigil until 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, when it will be taken to a train to be carried to Ottawa. It will pass through Montreal streets lined with members of local militia, naval and air force units.

In the capital the sorrow which fell on the Dominion will find expression in a state funeral service.

EVENTS ABANDONED

Flags were at half-staff, social events were canceled, political warfare was quieted and people thought of the writer, soldier and statesman who had visited them on their farms, in their cities and on their furthest frontiers of the Arctic Ocean.

It was the first time in her history that Canada had lost a Governor-General in office. And Lord Tweedsmuir had the distinction of representing in the Dominion three sovereigns.

As John Buchan he was appointed by King George V. in 1935 and raised to the peerage as the first Baron Tweedsmuir of Elsfield. He continued as Governor-General under Edward VIII and George VI.

Though Lord Tweedsmuir's critical condition was known for several days, his death came almost suddenly after considerable hope had been aroused that he would win through. Canadians went to bed Saturday night with encouraging news of progress reported by his doctors, and there was a definite air of increasing hopefulness in the circles close to him. But yesterday he relapsed and though he withstood another operation well, a clot in a vein of the leg brought a respiratory failure which caused death.

Governor of Quebec, declared: "I am the more deeply affected since our personal relations were the most cordial."

"His keen interest in folk made his influence effective wherever he went," said Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen of Alberta, adding that "few Canadians have seen as much of their own land as Lord Tweedsmuir."

Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Tupper of Manitoba cited His Excellency's "unquestioned integrity and his abiding sense of fairness and honesty of purpose in the discharge of his high duty."

Lieutenant-Governor A. P. McNab and Premier W. J. Patterson of Saskatchewan sent condolences to Lady Tweedsmuir.

Rt. Rev. Stuart C. Parker, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, of which Lord Tweedsmuir was a member, said the church was "proud of him as one of its most faithful sons and distinguished elders, a son of the manse who showed all his life the marks of his godly upbringing."

"Apart from his official life in Canada," Dr. Manion said, "His Excellency will live in history as John Buchan the author, who through his historical works as well as his novels brought much joy and pleasure to people in all parts of the world."

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, declared in an address from Quebec, that Canada has lost "a friend who devoted himself entirely to its service with remarkable intelligence and tact."

"One wishes that he might have been permitted to carry to its natural conclusion his work as Governor-General of Canada, which post he so ably and delightfully filled," said Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews of Ontario, and other lieutenant-governors sounded similar notes.

Lieutenant-Governor B. W. LePage of Prince Edward Island said Lord Tweedsmuir's career "has been marked by great industry and notable achievement," and Sir Eugene Fiset, Lieutenant-

Tom Moore, president of the Lady Tweedsmuir, in the words of one of the Vice-regal Party, had been "simply wonderful" during the five anxious days. She had waited near her husband as the long hours of the operations ticked away. After his death she walked from the hospital beside her son, Hon. Alastair, and Mrs. George Pape, lady-in-waiting. She embraced Miss Eileen Flanagan, supervisor of nurses at the institute, who accompanied her to her car. She returned to Ottawa today.

Recently Lord Tweedsmuir had announced he would retire from office at the expiration of his term next autumn because of the condition of his health.

BRIEF BULLETIN

Death of the 64-year-old Governor-General was made known to the press by Sir Shuldham Redfern, personal secretary to Lord Tweedsmuir, in a simple bulletin which said "the Governor-General died at 7:13 p.m."

His final illness was described in a statement issued by the five doctors who attended him, Dr. Wilder Penfield, Dr. William Cone, Dr. Jonathan Meakins, Lt.-Col. Colin Russell and Dr. Gordon Lunn.

On Tuesday morning the Governor-General had a blocking of a small artery in the brain and he fell, striking his head and thereby adding a concussion of the brain. His left arm and legs became paralyzed and he became unconscious.

In the next three days acute swelling of the brain developed and an emergency trepanation of the skull was done at Government House Friday. He was brought to Montreal, where X-rays showed no evidence of a skull fracture, but did show an extraordinary swelling of the right side of the brain. An operation was performed to relieve the pressure in a more effective manner. He improved and the paralysis originally present was disappearing and he showed signs of returning consciousness. On Sunday morning there were further signs of increased pressure and a third operation was carried out.

"He stood the operation wonderfully," the statement said, "as he had shown great recuperative power from the beginning. The signs of pressure were receding in a reassuring manner when at 5:58 p.m. he had a sudden arrest of respiration which was due to pulmonary embolism resulting from a clot which had formed in the veins of the legs."

Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, called Lord Tweedsmuir "a real democrat" and A. R. Mosher, president of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, said the members of that organization "deeply regret his sudden passing."

LOSS TO SOLDIERS

The defence minister, Hon. Norman Rogers, said the word of Lord Tweedsmuir's death would be received with profound sorrow by all ranks of the Canadian Active Force, the Royal Canadian Navy and the Royal Canadian Air Force. Alex Walker, acting Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, said that "the sense of loss to war veterans is particularly poignant, for Lord Tweedsmuir was himself an ex-service man."

Chief Justice Sir Joseph Chisholm, administrator for the province of Nova Scotia during the illness of Lieutenant-Governor Robert Irwin, called the Governor-General's death "an incalculable loss."

Premier A. A. Dymally of New Brunswick said Lord Tweedsmuir was "richly endowed with those qualities that rendered easy his great and trying responsibilities."

Premier William Abernethy of Alberta said Lord Tweedsmuir was "so scholarly, so cultured, so dignified and yet so wholesome, so friendly and so congenial."

CHURCH'S TRIBUTE

Most Rev. Ildebrando Antonelli, papal delegate to Canada at Ottawa, paid tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir as a "scholar of the highest rank and brilliance."

Rev. Alexander Ferguson, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Ottawa, where Lord Tweedsmuir worshipped in residence in the capital, said "his death will be deeply and sincerely mourned all over Canada, for by his eager interest in Canadian life in every part of the Dominion, and among all classes people, he had endeared himself alike to the greatest and the humblest."

BILL DALE, brilliant half-miler of Victoria, who is with the Washington State College track squad, will be running in nine or 10 coast meets this season and perhaps two major college meets at the close of the season, according to word received from Pullman, Washington, his college town. The two major meets will be, of course, the Pacific Coast vs. Big 10 which will be held in Chicago on June 17, and the national collegiate in Minneapolis on June 21 and 22.

Dale's season will start on March 23 at his college town and on April 13 representatives of the team will be sent to Berkeley, California, for a dual meet with University of California. The next meet will be on April 20 in Moscow, Idaho, and the following week, April 27, Bill will be taking part in the annual Drake relays. His team will be host to University of Oregon on May 4 and University of Washington tracksters will pay a visit to Pullman on May 11. Dale will be running in the northern division meet in Seattle at the University of Washington oval on May 18 and in the Pacific Coast meet in Los Angeles on May 25. In a letter to his first coach, Archie McKinnon of the Flying "Y" and field team, a few days ago, Dale reports himself to be in top shape and looking forward to a big season.

Is Joe Louis slipping? That is the big question the fight fans would like answered following Friday night's heavyweight title scrap which saw the Negro champion carried the full 15 rounds by Arturo Godoy, South American challenger. After all Louis has been up in the driver's seat for nearly three years, having won the title from Jimmy Braddock June 22, 1937. However, he is only 26 years old and should still be at his peak. Jack Dempsey was 31 when he lost the crown to Gene Tunney at Philadelphia.

Just how good Godoy is will not be definitely determined until the pair meet in a return bout. Up until he had engaged Godoy, (Turn to Page 16, Col. 6)

Rangers, City Soccer Victors

Both registering 4-to-1 victories, Victoria City and Rangers soccer elevens advanced into the second round of the Mayor McGavin Cup series Saturday. Trotting out a 10-man team, manager Charlie Lewis' City club kicked their way to a victory over Saanich Thistles at Beacon Hill, and manager Dave Stewart's Rangers lads humbled the Garrison at Athletic Park.

Played on pitches with thick coats of mud, the games attracted only small crowds. Cup-tie games of previous years used to have good drawing power.

In second-round games of this series, which will probably be played this week-end, Victoria City opposes Esquimalt and Victoria West takes on Rangers. Winners of these games meet in the final February 24.

"That's a good team I have there," manager Stewart boasted earlier in the season, "and you'll hear from it later on." His prediction is apparently coming true now, for Saturday's win was the Rangers' second straight. They are hitting a fine stride at the present time.

In first-half play the soldier boys had the better of the exchanges, but poor shooting and good netminding at the crucial moments by Jack Saunders prevented them from scoring. The Rangers had a 1-to-0 lead at the interval, Richardson finding the hemph with a well-directed shot.

In the final 45 minutes the Rangers ran in three goals to a single return, a stiff Ranger defence in Ball and McSween holding off the boys in khaki. McCorkill made it 2 to 0 on Richardson's pass and he added another for his team-mates a little later. Casilio piled the leather between the sticks before Richardson scored the Rangers' final tally.

At the Hill Victoria City had a fairly easy time of it with the Thistles. In the first half they had numerous scoring opportunities, but faded out in front of the goal mouth. At the half they were trailing 1 to 0 on Hall's goal, scored for the Thistles 10 minutes before the interval.

The City settled down to some real goal scoring in the last period of play, running in a quartette of goals, Harry Holmes scoring twice, Bert Politano once and George Barnes making it 4 to 1 before the closing whistle.

The United States doubles champions, Hamilton Law and Dick Yeager, both of Seattle, captured the doubles title from Leney and Underhill, 15-10, 18-14. The title was held by Samis and Dick Birch, formerly of Vancouver, but now resident in eastern Canada.

In the final match Saturday night, Leney and Vess O'Shea copped the mixed doubles event from last year's champions, Eleanor Young and Norman Mustart, but only after a strong uphill battle. The scores were 15-12, 8-15, 18-16.

Fight Pictures at Dominion Theatre

Motion pictures of the recent heavyweight championship fight between titleholder Joe Louis and Arturo Godoy, South American challenger, will be shown at the Dominion Theatre Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The film will give a round-by-round description of the 15-round engagement in addition to several color shots.

Seven of Louis Callan's boxing proteges will travel up-island Wednesday to take part in a boxing show in Port Alberni, arranged by the Alberni Athletic Club.

Larry Fears, R.C.N., will battle Al Biggs in the feature bout in the middleweight division. Bill Scott, Allan Duval, Lionel Speller, Bob Clements, Ted Gray and Red Knowles are the other Victoria boys who will make the up-island trip.

Callan is rounding his boys into shape for the two-day tournament to be held in the city February 21 and 22.

Dauids Win in Overtime

Battling their opponent point for point in one of the fiercest basketball games in many a season, a weakened Dominos club went down to defeat at the hands of the touring House of David 51 to 48 after three five-minute overtime periods at the Willows Sports Centre Saturday night. Close to 800 fans were kept in a panic for an hour and a half.

Forced to take the court without Chuck and Art Chapman, veteran guard and driving centre, who were on the sidelines owing to a death in the family, Dominos put up a great scrap and could just as easily have won as lost. It was anybody's ball game up until the final whistle.

With the players of both clubs near exhaustion from the terrific pace, they opened the third extra period tied at 46 to 46. Busher Jackson brought the house down with a fast basket to give the local boys the lead. Henry Lee

Dominoes and Alumni Victors

Victoria High School Alumni and Dominoes emerged from a sea of water and mud at Central Park Saturday triumphant over Fairfield Blue Devils and Painter's Oak Blue Bruins, respectively, in Junior Canadian Football League play witnessed by approximately 400 fans.

Alumni's win over Blue Devils was 13 to 0, and Dominoes nosed out Bruins 5 to 0.

Despite the poor ground conditions the youngsters turned in good performances, showing considerable improvement over their first contests a week previous.

A highlight of Saturday's play was the improvement shown by coach Brent Murdoch's Bruins. Displaying weakness in line and secondary defence in their first start a week ago, the Bruins worked a million against the Dominoes, blocking and tackling well and clicking on their plays much better. Using big 190-pounder Jack Sparks in the plugging back spot, the Bruins picked up first downs time after time. In a delayed buck play, used quite often, they fell down on the timing.

ALUMNI VICTORS

Scoring a rouge and a touchdown in the opening quarter and another touch in the second period holding their opponents scoreless, Alumni looked like they were going to have little trouble in piling up a big lead, but Blue Devils, coached by Jim Skellern, started to click in the third period, holding off the Alumni offerings and threatening to score themselves two or three times.

With only four minutes gone in the game, big Alumni back, Vic Dale, attempted a place kick from the 18-yard line after his team had marched down the field on line bucks and end runs. The kick went wide but far into the Blue Devils' end zone and Siki Sturrock, in attempting to run the ball out, was rouged by Bob Webster for Alumni's first point.

Thunderbird Off to Manila

John Katan of Alberta beat Terry McGinnis of New York and Jack Forsgren of Vancouver got the call over Chief Thunderbird of Victoria in Saturday night's wrestling show at the Army and Navy arena.

The Forsgren-Thunderbird bout went the wrong way for the enthusiastic followers of the colorful islander especially in view of the fact that it was announced that the Chief has just been booked for a series of bouts in Manila and will leave on the Clipper from San Francisco.

"It will be great advertising for Victoria," said the announcer but a few Saanich isolationists in the crowd greeted the announcement with derision. "You mean Saanich," they called.

The Chief was shaping up like a winner in his bout with Forsgren when the Vancouver man cut up rough with butts and elbow jabs, drop kicked the Indian and then pinned his shoulders in the fourth round.

Katan got the first fall over McGinnis in the third with a Japanese standing toe-hold and then in a rough fourth round made McGinnis concede a fall. Bill Steen defeated Scotty McPherson in the curtain raiser.

Paul Goodman and the Chicago Black Hawks have the sign of the double-o in the National Hockey League.

The Hawks and Goodman, who had to wait until he passed the 30-year mark before getting his big league chance, have gone through their last 120 minutes of play without being scored upon. At their present pace it wouldn't surprise at all if the Hawks managed to nose out Toronto Maple Leafs for third place in the standing.

Behind the superlative net play of the freshman from western Canada, the Hawks trounced the league-leading New York Rangers 3 to 0 last night to run their string of undefeated games to five.

The victory put the Hawks only three points away from Maple Leafs, who had been apparently certain until only recently of finishing in at least third place behind Rangers and Boston Bruins. The Leafs picked up a week-end point by playing a 4 to 4 draw with Rangers Saturday while the Bruins defeated New York Americans 4 to 2 and Montreal Canadiens won 3 to 2 in overtime over Wings in Sunday contests.

FOURTH SHUTOUT
While Goodman marked up his fourth shutout since replacing Mike Karakas late in the old year, the veteran Mush March and two first-year men—Johnny Chad and Les Cunningham—took care of the Hawks offensive. Pays Tribute

A formal resolution of condolence was passed by the City Council this afternoon before it adjourned its regular meeting until Friday as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Governor-General.

The full text of the resolution follows:

"That this city council hereby places on record its profound regret and deep sorrow at the untimely and widely lamented death of His Excellency the Right Hon. Baron Tweedsmuir of Elfield, G.C.M.G., C.H., Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada;

"That the council expresses its high regard for the noble traits of character and admirable qualities of mind and personality which he possessed and his great capabilities and memorable accomplishments as an author, soldier and statesman and as representative of His Gracious Majesty the King in Canada;

"That the council recognizes and fully appreciates the outstanding and valuable services rendered by him to this Dominion and the whole Empire, and the deep and lasting affection in which he was held throughout Canada and in many other countries;

"That the council's sincere sympathy with them in their sad bereavement and irreparable loss be extended to Lady Tweedsmuir and the other members of the bereaved family;

"And that the Honorable the Secretary of State at Ottawa be requested to transmit a copy of this resolution to Lady Tweedsmuir."

SEEK ESTIMATE ON GARBAGE CRUSHER

Provided the estimates committee approves the required expenditure, Victoria will use special crushers to treat garbage prior to dumping at sea, Alderman Ed Williams, chairman of the public works committee announced today. Subject to endorsement of the expenditure vote, the installation will be completed before the summer and the return of refuse to the beaches should be virtually eliminated, he added.

"We are working on the crusher plan right now and are securing estimates today from the Victoria Machinery Depot and the city blacksmith's shop for the required equipment," the public works chairman stated.

"Establishment of a crushing system will, however, depend upon the approval of the council for the expenditure. There is no reason, other than a financial one, why the equipment should not be in operation by this summer. After our inspection of crushed garbage last year I am of the opinion the system will eliminate 80 per cent of the refuse which hitherto has collected on the beaches. At all events it will cause cans and bottles to sink," the alderman said.

Maitland to Talk to Seattle Doctors

R. L. Maitland, K.C., leader of the Conservative Party of British Columbia, will be the main speaker at the annual dinner of the King County Medical Society Wednesday evening at 6 at the Washington Athletic Club, Seattle. The event will honor the retiring president, Dr. Herbert E. Coe.

Mr. Maitland was selected to represent the British Columbia bar at last year's meeting of the American Bar Association. He is an honorary member of the Washington Bar Association, and has addressed assemblies of Washington lawyers. His subject at the medical society dinner will be "The Professional Man."

TOWN TOPICS

The annual banquet of the Army and Navy Veterans, which was to have been held Thursday, was postponed to a date to be announced later.

The Credit Granters' Association annual meeting will be held tomorrow in Spencer's. Activities for the year will be reviewed and a directorate for the coming year elected.

Elimination of fire hazards at the Willows Exhibition Grounds is sought by Oak Bay in a letter addressed to the city today. The municipality calls Victoria's attention particularly to the condition of certain horse barns used during the racing season.

The Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross announces that its distributing centre at the Belmont Building headquarters will be closed tomorrow afternoon out of respect to the late Mrs. J. Gordon Smith, and will be closed all day Wednesday in tribute to the late Governor-General.

A car which B.C. Police motor records show is registered in the name of B. C. Walker, Duncan, was totally wrecked when it overturned and burned on the Malahat, at Arbutus Creek, over the week-end. Details of the accident were not immediately available today from Constable Frank Clarke of the highway patrol, who investigated.

The following eight plays have been entered in Fraser Valley Drama Festival, to be held February 15, 16 and 17, at New Westminster: "The Boy Comes Home," "When the Whirlwind Blows," "The Mask," "The Whip Hand," "Not Quite Such a Goose," "On Dartmoor," "The Importance of Being Earnest," act 1, and "The Veil Lifts." Archie MacCorkindale of Victoria will be adjudicator.

The Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada will meet at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday evening at 8. Prof. A. M. Crooker of Vancouver will speak on "Sources of Solar and Stellar Energy." Dr. Crooker studied at the University of Toronto, then in England, and for the past few years has been connected with the physics department of the University of British Columbia.

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria and Islands Branch of the Canadian Authors' Association will be held at the Empress Hotel Thursday evening at 8. The speaker will be Mrs. Irene Baird, author of "John" and "Waste Heritage," who will speak on "Breaking Into Fiction." Mrs. Myrtle Lane will give a craft talk, "The Dramatic Life Line." Miss Stella Burton will be the soloist.

The Burns Club will meet in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium tomorrow night at 8, and not the 14th as shown in the syllabus. Moving pictures of Wells Gray Park and other beauty spots of B.C. will be shown by C. R. Ferris and W. A. Macdonald. Assisting will be a musical trio and a group of Highland dancers, and there will also be a short talk by one of the members. Capt. J. A. Dewar will occupy the chair.

Funeral Tuesday
Of Erny Jeeves

Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros' Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2 for Erny Jeeves, aged 58 years, of 1357 Pandora Avenue, who died Saturday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay.

Mr. Jeeves was born in Sandy, Bedfordshire, England, and came to Victoria when five years of age. He received his education in local schools, and followed the trucking business all his life.

He leaves four brothers: Frank W., of 512 Cecelia Road, and John Allen of 2506 Douglas Street, both of this city; Edmund of Portland, Oregon, and Percival of Berkeley, Cal., and two sisters, Mrs. V. McRolle and Mrs. P. W. Richards, both of this city.

PAYS TRIBUTE

"Canada has lost a very beloved Governor-General," said T. W. S. Parsons, president of the Men's Canadian Club, in a brief and sincere tribute at today's luncheon of the club in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Parsons was a personal friend of Lord Tweedsmuir's, having traveled with him during his visit to Tweedsmuir Park. "Many here will feel deeply for Lady Tweedsmuir, I am sure," he said. "We do not know who the next Governor-General will be, but there will never be another Lord Tweedsmuir."

PORT ALBERNI—Sidney Keay, Vancouver logger, is in West Coast Hospital here with head injuries suffered when the limb of a tree fell on him at Franklin River.

Thief Scorns
Modern Art

Several break-ins in which no serious losses were reported, were investigated by city police during the week-end.

A thief who apparently had no flair for modern art, entered Miss Jeanette Cann's art exhibit, 735 View Street, and took nothing after ransacking the premises. Included in Miss Cann's exhibit are a number of modern sketches, but the intruder apparently failed to attach any value to them.

Junkie's, View Street, was also entered, but the prowlers must have been disturbed and departed in a hurry. Police received a call there were prowlers in the building, but when they arrived there was no sign of them.

W. H. Warren, 1270 Montrose Avenue, city parks superintendent, reported he walked into his home Saturday evening and heard someone leaving by the back door. The only loss was some small change from a pair of pants hanging in a hall.

Ramsay and Adams Foundry, 435 Garbally Road, was entered and the prowlers apparently took the precaution to put out a fire which they started while prowling around. Police found a pile of rags on an upper floor soaked in methyl hydrate. These appeared to have been partly burned but the flames were put out by dumping a keg of nails over them.

Big Demand for Houses to Rent

The demand for homes to rent during the last few months has been so heavy that there is a scarcity of "rentals" on the files of local real estate firms, a check-up this morning showed. This also applies to apartments.

Four of six firms interviewed reported their lists of homes for rent were exhausted, and that they were forced to refuse dozens of applications daily for this form of real estate transaction.

All firms said the demand to buy homes was brisk at the present time and better than the corresponding period last year, when business was classed as "better than good."

The buying demands are chiefly for small houses up to seven rooms.

There is no real estate boom on at the present time, one agent said. Prices are remaining steady.

New arrivals to the city in the air force, navy and army with families, and winter-visiting prairie people are reported to have taken up most of the rented homes and apartments. In Esquimalt many inquiries for homes near the barracks have been made.

Since the outbreak of the war people have arrived here to settle from all parts of the world and are reported to be among those seeking homes to buy.

Hold-up Suspect
Before Court

Walter McLaren, 36, who was arrested in Nanaimo last week on a warrant issued by B.C. Police at North Vancouver, was arraigned in the City Police Court this morning charged with participation in the armed hold-up of the Victoria West branch of the Royal Bank of Canada February 1.

McLaren was remanded without plea for a week, pending his appearance in mainland courts on other charges.

Without counsel today he indicated he would attempt to secure assistance from the law society's committee on legal aid which provides defence counsel in cases it considers deserving.

McLaren told the court he had no money with which to get a lawyer.

Magistrate Hall drew attention to the fact the law society did provide assistance in some cases and, acting on this suggestion, McLaren said he would try and get counsel.

City police meanwhile pressed their investigation of the $3,000 robbery in an endeavor to locate the man they allege was McLaren's accomplice.

Inspector J. H. Rogers, head of the plain clothes department, said today police were convinced only two men, and not three, as originally thought, were involved in the hold-up. A thorough check of all witnesses in the cases had revealed this, Inspector Rogers said.

Police have already circularized a description of the other suspect they seek. The investigation has been pursued relentlessly and it was largely through information the city police obtained that the arrest by the B.C. Police in Nanaimo was possible.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Jessie Clark and Mrs. Elizabeth Barker, 2640 Cedar Hill Road, and Mrs. Phyllis McLellan, in Ontario, and four sons, Grant, Alfred and Harry in Saskatchewan, and William in Detroit. Private services will be conducted tomorrow morning at 11 from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. O. L. Jull will officiate and interment will take place in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

LENNIE—Word has reached Victoria of the death at the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster, last Friday of Henry Marcus Lennie, eldest son of the late Rev. Robt. Lennie, pioneer Baptist minister of the coast, and Mrs. Lennie. Mr. Lennie was born in Scotland, coming to Canada with his parents at an early age. He had resided in New Westminster for 55 years, being one of the leading business men of that city. He leaves his widow, four sisters and three brothers, Mrs. G. Jennings Burnett and Mrs. J. Walton Chapman of Victoria; Mrs. L. B. Lusby and Mrs. (Dr.) E. H. McEwen of New Westminster; R. S. Lennie, K.C., and Dr. T. H. Lennie of Vancouver, and E. D. Lennie of Toronto, also nieces and nephews. The funeral service was held today at the Holy Trinity Cathedral, New Westminster. Out of respect for their uncle and in consideration of their mother, "Chuck" and Art Chapman refrained from playing basketball last Saturday evening at the Sport Centre.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bandmaster Edward Cox, 74, whose red tunic was a familiar sight here in times of mourning or celebration for more than 40 years, died yesterday.

He led the band which welcomed the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall to Vancouver in 1907 and the Prince of Wales in 1924. Each Armistice Day he took charge of ceremonies at the Cenotaph.

PUBLICITY BUREAU
NAMES DIRECTORS

G. H. Stevens, Duncan MacBride, E. W. McMullen, Harold Husband, William Clark and J. Harold Wilson, with City Council representatives Aldermen Archie Wells, W. H. Davies and J. A. Worthington, were elected as the 1940 board of directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at the annual meeting today.

The president will be elected at the first meeting of the newly-appointed directorate.

Mr. Stevens announced that Alderman N. Lloyd Morgan and Stanley Okell automatically go on the finance committee as appointees of the City Council.

At the outset of the meeting Mr. Stevens called for a silent standing tribute to the memory of Lord Tweedsmuir, remarking "he was a man who endeared himself to every Canadian and our heartfelt sympathies go out to Lady Tweedsmuir."

Legion Donates
In National Drive

Officials of the Canadian Legion in Victoria announced this afternoon the city had made a good start on its quota of $15,000 in the Legion's War Service Appeal for $500,000.

Subscriptions of $4,800 from the Victoria branches of the legion alone were announced as follows: Britannia Branch $2,000, Pro Patria Branch $2,000, public services branch $300, and $500 from the Naval Veterans Branch which is already under considerable obligation for the welfare of the Royal and Canadian navies.

In their appeal to the general public legion officials said they thought that the contributions by the legion branches would be a worthy example.

"We are confident the full objective will be reached before the week is out," said S. W. Norman Saunders of the local committee.

Election Notes

Liberals Delay
Nomination

Arrangements for the election campaign in Victoria, as in other parts of Canada, have been changed, due to the death of the Governor-General.

Carew Martin, president of Victoria Liberal Association, announced that the party's nominating convention called for Wednesday night in the Chamber of Commerce has been postponed until next week. Wednesday is the day of the funeral. The nomination meeting will be held next week.

W. H. M. Haldane, president of Victoria Conservative Association, was advised that the cross-country tour of Hon. R. J. Manion, national Conservative leader, has been postponed and he will not be here on Saturday as planned. Dr. Manion was to have addressed a meeting in Royal Victoria Theatre Saturday afternoon.

In addition, the Conservative executive was called into special meeting tonight to consider postponement of the nominating convention arranged for Thursday night.

Reports from Port Alberni today say neither the Liberals nor Conservatives will enter a candidate against A. W. Neill, Independent. The C.C.F. has already chosen its man for the contest, which indicates a two-way fight in the riding.

C.C.F. DENY UNION

Kenneth McAllister, C.C.F. candidate in Victoria, today declared there was no basis for the Ottawa report that the C.C.F. would cooperate with Conservatives in the west to defeat Liberal candidates.

"The C.C.F. policy is determined by the rank and file of the movement and recognizes little if any difference between the two old-line parties," he said. "Our supporters need have no fear of the C.C.F. joining in any union, national or any other government formed by either of the old-line parties."

Final reports of enumerators who took registrations for the voters' list last week are now being submitted to Sydney Child, returning officer. The house-to-house canvass put some 29,000 names on the list. The final check-up will be at Courts of Revision from March 11 to 13. Saanich Liberal Association will hold a general meeting tonight at the headquarters, 3200 block Douglas Street.

James Sinclair, former secretary to Hon. W. J. Asquith, Minister of Mines, has entered the political field as candidate for the Liberal Party in North Vancouver. He was nominated Saturday night.

Auto Club Raps
Parallel Parking

The Victoria Automobile Club approves in general the parking recommendations of Police Chief J. A. McLellan, but takes exception to those advocating parallel instead of angle parking, particularly on Douglas Street and on Yates Street east of Douglas.

Word to that effect was contained in letter received today at the City Hall.

The roadways mentioned, the club feels, are quite wide enough for angle parking. The parallel system reduces the number of cars that can use curb space and, owing to the fact most motorists find difficulty in parking that way, causes traffic delay, the club feels.

The communication also notes the chief trouble is caused by motorists using the street for garage purposes and suggests the city make available as many lots as possible for parking purposes.

F. Bantle, in another letter, voices his own opinions on the parking question.

Motorists paid a total of $82.50 in fines in the City Police Court this morning for various traffic offences.

This Little Steinway

Is Every Inch An Aristocrat of Pianos!

THIS superb instrument is only 5 feet 1 inch in size, so that it can take its place easily in the modern home, yet in musical brilliance it is a true Steinway. It is as perfectly constructed as the great concert grand Steinways that Paderewski, Hoffman and Rachmaninoff use for concert engagements.

All week it has been in our music salon and well-known local pianists who have tried it say it is the most delightful little instrument they have ever played. We invite you to come and see it... play it... enjoy it.

Lord Marley Will Rest in Victoria

Changing his plans when friends in Vancouver told him he should spend as long as possible in Victoria, Lord Marley, deputy Speaker of the British House of Lords, will arrive here tomorrow morning and will remain until late the next afternoon, when he will depart for Seattle.

He originally intended to arrive tomorrow afternoon from Vancouver and return to the mainland at midnight. While in the city Lord Marley will be the guest at Government House of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber. But because of state mourning for His Excellency the Governor-General, there will be no official function for Lord Marley at Government House.

Mrs. Hamber returned to her official residence from Vancouver this morning, but His Honor, who has been confined to bed at "Greencroft," his Shaughnessy Heights home, for the last few days, with an attack of influenza, will arrive in the morning, on the same steamer with Lord Marley.

All engagements at Government House for the next week have been canceled because of mourning for His Excellency.

An informal day has been planned for Lord Marley. He will call on Premier Pattullo, lunch quietly at Government House, go driving in the afternoon and in the evening will address a dinner of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs at the Union Club.

PROGRESS ON TENDER FORM

Transportation tender form drafting featured on three fronts today.

The special municipal officials committee in charge of drawing up the proposed form met for further discussion of the document.

Alderman Ed Williams continued his complaints against reported allegations that he and Mayor McGavin were "hounding" R. F. Blandy, Oak Bay municipal clerk, on the issue.

Mr. Blandy addressed a short note to the city asking more time for the officials committee on the grounds the officials were being kept busy on other duties, including estimate drafting.

At today's meeting of the committee progress was made in arranging data for the official tender form.

The meeting adjourned until Friday morning, when it may complete the rough work on the document and leave it for retyping prior to submission to councils of the city, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

Mako and Sabin Out of Tennis

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-four hours after its executive committee had suspended Gene Mako and Wayne Sabin for breaking the amateur rules, the United States Lawn Tennis Association
Saturday adopted legislation designed to forestall similar infractions in the future.

Under the new code, the presidents of the 13 sectional associations, acting jointly with the national president, are empowered to rule on a club's right to pay and a player's right to receive traveling and living expenses.

Mako, former Davis Cup star and national singles finalist in 1938, and Sabin, No. 5 in 1939 national rankings approved Saturday, were barred from competition in all U.S.L.T.A.-sanctioned tournaments because: (1) They broke the rule limiting a player to expenses for eight weeks of competition in one calendar year;

(2) they collected excessive traveling expenses.

Leaders in 1939 national tennis rankings approved at Saturday's meeting of the United States
Lawn Tennis Association:

KILTIES VICTORS OVER VISITORS

Playing at Victoria West on Saturday on a soft and slippery pitch, Second Battalion Canadian Scottish footballers proved too strong for the 62nd Battery eleven from Duncan, defeating them 7 to 0.

Deluce was the shining light for the Scottish, scoring six of the goals. Galbraith netted the seventh.

Deluce is a veteran of the game, having played in First Division Old Country football in 1919, for Calgary in 1922 when they won the Dominion championship, and again for Cumberland in 1924 when they were in the playoff for the western Canada championship.

Teams were:
Scottish: Hoadley, Anderson, Wakelin, Bland, Stothard, Jackson, Robinson, Major Crofton, Deluce, Galbraith, Warman. Reserves—Farmer, Burns.

62nd Battery: Carberry, Lieut.
Appleby, G. Appleby, Benning-

SPENCER TRACY IN 'STANLEY' ROLE

The most thrilling adventure known to man comes to the screen of Rio Theatre today in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Stanley and Livingstone." With Spencer Tracy starred as the heroic Stanley, Nancy Kelly and Richard Greene starred in the romantic roles, the 20th Century-Fox film features one of the greatest acting casts ever assembled. Included are Walter
Brennan, Charles Coburn, Sir Cedric Hardwicke (as Livingstone), Henry Hull and Henry Travers.

ROYAL VISIT TO BE SCREENED HERE

A unique and authentic visual record of the Dominion-wide tour of Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth is embodied in the official picture "Royal Visit" which comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. Scenes highlighted by the simple dignity of the King-Emperor, and the winsomeness and spontaneous charm of his beautiful Queen will be shown as the Royal visitors make their triumphal progress through Canada.

In one hour and a half of sequence "Royal Visit" will be shown, a photographic diary of two people deeply touched by old loyalties quickened into life by their presence. In city, village and hamlet Their Majesties will be shown. All the gorgeous pageantry of Empire with its age-old appeal is contained in the picture.

FILM EXPOSES DRUG MENACE

"Tell Your Children," now at the Plaza Theatre, brings a straight-from-the-shoulder presentation of methods used by the cowardly, conscienceless peddlers to interest children of preparatory school age in the use of this drug, shows graphically what happens to the physical and moral fibre of these same children from the finest of families and then, with telling directness, uses a thrilling dramatic finish to drive home to every parent the fact that their own children may be the next ones who are to come under the sordid influence of this killer of souls.

The picture has been produced with a cast of tested character players for the adult roles and a large number of the best young players in Hollywood for the adolescent leads.

'ELIZABETH AND ESSEX,' SHOWN

Bette Davis and Errol Flynn are co-starred in the title roles of "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex," Warner Bros.
technicolor production which opens at the Atlas Theatre today.
The film tells the little-told love story of England's virgin queen and Robert Devereaux, Earl of Essex.

OUT OUR WAY—

Lack of Sunshine Is Health Danger

Sunshine, bright sunshine! It can do ever so much to keep people healthy. Too much of it at one time may burn the skin; but most persons do not have enough.

Certain short rays in sunshine are known as "ultra-violet rays." When they shine on a human being they help his skin to make a certain amount of Vitamin D. In old days of outdoor life many persons were able to obtain enough Vitamin D through sunshine.

A hatful of chicks in the sunshine.

If people do not have enough Vitamin D they suffer from a bone disease known as "rickets." Most victims of this trouble have been babies, and often they have carried the results through life—bow-legs, knock-knees, weak limbs and so on.

The importance of sunshine has been brought out in records of Europe's health. In general, the people of the northern half of Europe have suffered more than those in the southern half. This has been due to the fact that northern Europe has less sunshine.

The growth of cities has done much to block out sunshine. This comes about not only from tall buildings but also from smoke which hangs over cities with thousands of chimneys. Smoke from soft coal can be an enemy of health.

The taking of cod liver-oil seems to have gone on in some parts of the Norse countries for hundreds of years. Being largely fisher folk, the Norsemen no doubt were simply making use of the oil in codfish which they caught. Yet it did them good and took away much of the bad effect of not having enough sunshine.

In 1909 a doctor in St. Petersburg (now Leningrad) started treating a four-year-old child who could not walk. Because of rickets, this child had lost his power of walking at the age of 18 months.

The doctor gave the child cod liver oil each day for two months. At the end of that time the little one was able to run around quite freely.

That case, and others like it, led to widespread use of cod liver oil. Though no one knew the reason the oil took the place of sunshine in the work of bringing about strong, healthy bones.

Cod liver oil is in use to this day, but a great discovery has given the human race a new and easier way of obtaining Vitamin D. Tomorrow we shall go into the story of that discovery.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, February 13

Benefic aspects are active today, which is especially fortunate for women. The stars stimulate aggressive and courageous policies in business or government. Industry is encouraged under this configuration.

Women are under a planetary direction most inspiring to ambition. The stars seem to promise success in negotiations for high positions. There is a sign read as indicating transition that is really progress. It is a date auspicious for love affairs in which the future husband possesses wealth and high position. Improvement of the home is one of the first interests among older women.

Concentration of capital upon home industries will benefit business at this time. Trade and commerce should be above normal standards. Girls will find well-paid employment early in the spring, but they must be capable and efficient.

Opposition to Communism in all its forms will have lasting effect in the democracies.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which business and finances prosper. Women will find many pleasures and will contribute much to charities and philanthropies.

Children born on this day probably will be keen of mind and active of body. The Aquarians may possess unusual talent as linguists, and may be brilliant in mentality.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—There are two childless couples, each of whom have been married for about 18 years. Neither marriage has been successful so far as filling the inner needs are concerned, although each bears the outward semblance of harmony. The couples have been friends for many years. Now Mr. A. and Mrs. B. have developed a deep love for each other. Each has struggled against this, but hopelessly, and a decision must be reached as to the courageous and the right course to pursue. For three years this situation has existed and no solution seems in sight, unless a continuance of this endurance test can be called a solution. While Mr. A. and Mrs. B. are confident life would have a much fuller meaning for them if they were free to live together, they doubt the possibility of finding happiness when it means tramping on the souls of two other people and disrupting two homes. Neither Mrs. A. nor Mr. B. know what has happened. Each of them is apparently satisfied to go on with a fairly happy marriage and would be shocked and torn at the thought of divorce. Mrs. A. would probably fight it to the last ditch. Are you wise enough to see through this muddle? Can you offer a philosophy that would be sustaining in one course or the other?

Answer: It would take a wisdom far deeper than any I possess to solve your problem, because it raises the insoluble question of whether we have a right to take our own happiness at the expense of others, or whether, as the Good Book says, "Whosoever will save his life shall lose it."

Nor have I any comfort to offer you beyond the suggestion that has already occurred to you—that people as fine as you and Mr. A. are, in a way, the victims of their own nobility of soul. You cannot do the things that people of lesser character do, apparently with impunity and without regret. You cannot build your house of happiness on the wrecks of two other homes.

And so I see no way out for you that you can take, but I do believe with all my soul that if we walk the straight and narrow path and keep faith with our ideals that we find the strength to bear whatever comes to us, and the peace that passes all understanding.

DOROTHY DIX.

Canadiens Can Use Amateurs

EDMONTON (CP)—On request of Frank Calder of Montreal, president of the National Hockey League, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association "has formally given its consent" to Montreal Canadiens of the N.H.L. to use Tony Demers and Smiley Meronek, two former Quebec amateurs, Prof. W. G. Hardy of Edmonton announced last night.

However, "with respect to the signing of two Quebec branch players by the Canadiens, it was pointed out to Calder that this action was contrary to the agreement between the N.H.L. and C.A.H.A., which provides that no C.A.H.A. player may be signed to a professional contract after January 1 without consent of the C.A.H.A.," the president of the C.A.H.A. said in a statement here.

"Since the clubs involved and the Quebec branch agreed and since the C.A.H.A. appreciates the difficulties facing the Canadiens club, the C.A.H.A. has formally given its consent."

Brentwood College Rugby Teams Win

Brentwood College swept to a decisive 13 to 0 victory over their University 1st opponents Saturday afternoon at Brentwood. A large crowd of enthusiastic followers were on hand for the game.

Brentwood won the toss and elected the kick. They soon penetrated deep into enemy territory and after a sparkling three-quarter movement, Shield crossed the line for a try. He got the pass from Angus. The kick failed to add extra points. A few minutes later Angus gained possession of the ball and after a short run, kicked over the full-back's head, regained possession and passed to Begert who went over. I. Gillespie converted. At the half the score was unchanged, 8 to 0 for the College.

At the opening of the second half University pressed hard and staged a swift backfield run which was finally squashed by a neat tackle by I. Gillespie, Brentwood fullback. Play at this point assumed a nip-and-tuck flavor; both sides staging splendid backfield movements. Toward the middle of the half Brentwood forwards carried the ball deep in their opponents' territory, handed the leather out to the three, who completed the movement with a try, Angus going over again, Gillespie converting. This completed the scoring of the game.

Brentwood's Begert was taken off the field later in the game with a slight concussion.

In Victoria Brentwood's 2nd and 3rd teams beat University School teams.

like it was going to be successful, but a pass attempt by Sturrock was intercepted by Clarence Uttke, giving Alumni possession. Alumni, with Dale and Red Bateman carrying the ball, marched from the 43-yard line to Fairfield's 15-yard line, and on the next play Bateman was handed the leather to weave through the Blue Devils for the first touchdown. Dale kicked the extra point, to make the score 7 to 0.

At the start of the second quarter Dale took Fairfield's kickoff and ran it 23 yards. Bateman carried the ball for 12 yards on the first play and Dale picked up a few more yards on the next attempt. Alumni were penalized 10 yards for holding, but that didn't seem to bother them, for on the next play Dale went around his left end for the second and final touchdown. He kicked for conversion and the final 13 to 0 score.

DOMINOES WIN

Stocky Ken Campbell was again the backbone of Dominoes, carrying the ball for end runs throughout the game and making the only score near the end of the first quarter. With the line and secondary blocking out well, Campbell raced around his right end for a 45-yard run to touch. The kick by Ed McKim for the extra point was blocked and the score stood at 5 to 0.

Oak Bay fired on all sixes in the second quarter and dashed out many a score to the Dominoes on attempts to score. But despite strong attacks by both squads in the remaining play no further scoring was seen.

Pinscher Wins Premier Honors

Freya, a Doberman pinscher, owned by Dr. Thomas Walker, carried off premier honors in the fine parlor show staged jointly by the Victoria City Kennel Club and the Junior Victorian Order of Nurses in the Crystal Garden Saturday night.

The pinscher was judged best in show and won the ribbon as best working dog.

Just under 100 aristocrats of the canine world were in the show. Duncan had a good representation, with the remainder being locally owned.

John Sharpe's collie, Silver Glen Jane, a Duncan entry, took the honors in the puppy class. It was judged best puppy in show and best working puppy. Best junior and best sporting puppy honors went to Mrs. Mason's Irish setter, Shane O'Colwood. Helen Pollock's Scottish terrier, Christy, won best novice ribbon, and Mrs. Thornton Turner's wire-haired fox terriers were the best brace.

Other winners in the senior groups were: Best toy, Mrs. Castle's Pomeranian Buttercup, which also captured best toy puppy honors; best terrier, Mrs. Constantine's smooth-haired Clapton Odahawa; best nonsporting, Mrs. B. Davidson's standard French poodle Tulloch Madame, which was also judged best nonsporting puppy; best sporting, Miss Burridge's English setter Seaxegallideore; best sporting hound, Mr. Olson's whippet Tootsie.

Other puppy group winners were: Highland Lan, West Highland white terrier, shown by Miss Billett, and Widrook Mischief daschund, handled by Miss Cunningham.

Shirley Mason was the best girl-handler and Murray Saunders placed first in the boys' section.

Mrs. Smith's Rusty was first in the green class—for dogs of all ages and breeds never shown before. Master Tiny, owned by Mrs. Rhodes, was second, and Mrs. R. Taylor's Felbaire Ferdinand was third. Able Seaman Dehime's daschund was judged best dog shown by a person in uniform.

up an unassisted tally midway through the middle frame.

Roy Conacher led Bruins to their sixth straight victory this season over the Americans by getting two goals, one late in the first period and the other in the last part of the third frame. The other Boston tallies went to defencemen—Dit Clapper and Des Smith—while Lorne Carr and Johnny Sorrell scored for Americans. The victory left the Bruins, who have two games in hand, only two points behind Rangers.

Canadiens won out over the Wings on the strength of a great net display by Wilf Cude and a goal half-way through the extra session by George Mantha. Montreal's two other goals went to Polly Drouin and Charlie Sands in the first period while Eddie Goodfellow and Eddie Wares scored for Wings.

Leafs looked like winners of their Saturday clash with Rangers for a moment when Hank Goldup scored just eight seconds after the start of overtime. But a little more than a minute later Kilby Macdonald whipped home a short shot to tie the score.

In the regular time Phil Watson, noted more this season for his play-making prowess, scored two goals for the Rangers while Alex Shibley tallied their other. Gordie Drillon, Lex Chisholm and Pete Langelle got goals for the Leafs.

Bays Defeated By Rowing Club

VANCOUVER (CP)—The

Arthur Cox Cup, representing English rugby supremacy among British Columbia oarsmen, will remain on the shelves of the Vancouver Rowing Club for another year.

Vancouver defeated Victoria J.B.A.A. 12 to 3 in a sudden-death tilt for the trophy here Saturday.

Despite the score the Victorians had quite a share of the play and the loss of a key man — Bill Brodigan—proved quite a handicap.

Brodigan suffered a hip injury in the first half and had to be taken from the field to hospital for attention a few minutes after the second half got under way.

Vancouver lost Jack Robertson midway in the second stanza and both teams played with 14 men. Jack Ferguson, James Bay and Victoria Rep fullback, was a standout for the visitors with his sensational display of kicking and tackling.

Bill Halkett made Victoria's only points early in the first half when he scored a try while Vancouver points were scored on a penalty goal and tries by Geoff Dyson, Rusty Goepel and Tanji Moran.

'Y' CAGERS WIN THRILLING GAME

In one of the most thrilling games seen in the Sunday School Basketball League this season, Y.M.C.A. Intermediate B hoops defeated Imperials 40 to 39 after overtime play at the "Y" gym, Saturday night.

The score was 34 to 34 when the regulation time whistle sounded. Young Bill Clarke, junior running star of the Flying "Y" track and field team, led the victors in scoring with 13 points. Prior was top scorer for the Imperials with 17 points.

In two other games Young Imperials beat Chinese Students in Intermediate B division play, 42 to 29, and Chinese Students defeated Cavays 34 to 22 in junior play.

Bob Macmurchie refereed.

Teams and scorers follow:

Y.M.C.A. — Johnstone 2, Mitchell, Henry 8, Clarke 13, Sprinkling, Towill 6, Rae 6, and Stewart 5.

Imperials — Travis 3, Popham 2, Bannister, Hundelby 7, Prior 17, Brown 4, Kinney 6, Wilson and Henry.

DAVIDS WIN IN OVERTIME

made it all even again and the Davids went on top when Greg Deim sank a free throw to make it 49 to 48. Davids attempted to stall, much to the disgust of the fans, and Jackson broke up their passing play with a clear path to the basket but hurried his shot and missed. Just before the whistle Lee cinched the game with a set-up under the hoop.

ROWE TIES SCORE

With 30 seconds of the regulation time remaining, Hank Rowe dropped through a strip shot to tie the score at 36-all. Davids moved four points up in the first overtime, only to have Jackson cut through twice for baskets and the tying points. In the second overtime Davids took the lead twice again, only to have Jackson rob them of victory with a basket with 40 seconds to go.

House of David held a 10-to-7 lead at the end of the first quarter; were up 18 to 15 at the half and 32 to 28 at three-quarter time. Lee was high scorer for the Davids, with 21 points, while Rowe and Jackson shared the honors for the Dominos with 15 apiece.

Bill Levy and Buck Kennett, Duncan, refereed.

Teams and scores follow:

House of David — Krumm 9, Peterson 4, Deim 15, Stoelting 2 and Lee 21.

Victoria Dominos — Rowe 15, Baker 4, Taylor 5, Davies 5, Jackson 15, Mylrea, Paterson 2 and Acreman 2.

SPORTS MIRROR

Louis had been knocking over his opponents regularly within six rounds or so. He had never been taken the route since Tommy Farr surprised the wise ones. That possibly made the champion inclined to be a little careless in his training. When he steps into the ring with Arturo for an encore we should really learn the answer because Louis is certain to be in the pink of condition. One thing Godoy showed the fans is he is plenty tough and can absorb punishment because Louis hit him often.

When Godoy started his clowning tactics in the late rounds he provided an interesting argument. Boxing rules state that when a man's gloves touch the canvas, he is technically "down." Godoy's gloves touched the mat three times in the 14th and he waddled and crouched around the ring like a monkey in a zoo. But, since each occasion came during a loud outburst of laughter at the burlesque, no one paid much attention. The whole thing passed with virtually no notice.

WHAT IS THIS LEGION DRIVE?

and why should I give?

Canadian Legion War Services sponsor a great, new cause—a service to the men of Canada who are fighting for us in our Army, Navy, and Air Force. To provide funds for this imperative work, a campaign to raise $500,000 is now under way. If you wonder, "Why should I give?" we suggest you read these questions and answers:

Q. What is the Legion raising this money for?

A. To provide funds for carrying on educational and personal service work with Canadians who have enlisted in the fighting forces.

Q. What do you mean by Educational Service?

A. Men who have enlisted are civilians in khaki who have a serious job to do. In doing that job, they should not develop the mental attitude "we are not coming back," but rather should continually think in terms of "when I go home," that they may be prepared to resume civilian life where they left off. In the hope of encouraging that outlook, it is felt that wherever possible, educational facilities and vocational training while they are on active service should be made available, to occupy their leisure and constantly remind them of the necessity of preparing for the future.

Q. And what are Personal Services to the Troops?

A. This means advice, guidance and actual personal services to men who are far from home and worried or bothered about some problem of a domestic or business nature. Legion War Services can perform an invaluable service to thousands of Canadians through their coast-to-coast organization with 1100 branches in cities, towns and villages throughout Canada. As the war develops, questions of pensions, medical treatment and re-establishment will arise. For years, the Legion has dealt with such problems and the accumulated experience of years will be available to the casualties of the present war.

Q. Why is Canadian Legion War Services entrusted with this work?

A. Because of the vast experience of the Legion in dealing with problems of the half-a-million Canadians who served in the Great War of 1914-1918, the Dominion Government places deep confidence in Legion activities and recognizes their particular fitness to cope with the problems that will arise during this war and to extend wise counsel to the thousands of men who now serve.

Q. Do Legion War Services overlap those of the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Y.M.C.A., etc.?

A. By no means. On the contrary, the Canadian Red Cross have strongly endorsed our activities. It is our definite purpose to avoid infringing upon the work being done by any other organization.

Q. Why shouldn't the Government undertake this job of education and vocational training?

A. Under dictator governments, practically all services are administered by the Government, and the rights and privileges of individuals are reduced to a minimum. In Canada we still retain the right to decide whether or not we wish to provide certain services for our fellow-men. In due course it will be the duty of the Government to develop schemes for the return to civil life of the men now employed in the armed forces. In the meantime, the work of educational training is to be carried on under Canadian Legion War Services on a voluntary basis.

Q. Do men on active service really want to bother about education?

A. Where our scheme has been put in operation, the men have shown great eagerness to take advantage of the courses offered. It is not uncommon for 60% of a unit personnel to attend educational courses.

Q. Are Legion officers qualified to undertake this job of education?

A. The Legion will organize and finance the plan. The actual educational work will be carried out under the direction of the Canadian Association for Adult Education. The best educationists in Canada and overseas will assist. For instance, as Director of our Educational Work in Canada we have secured the services of Lt.-Col. Wilfrid W. Bovey, of McGill University, who is also Head of the Canadian Association for Adult Education.

Q. Do your services include helping a man find a job when he gets back?

A. Yes. To co-operate with him and employers of labor to obtain preference for the men who have qualified themselves for such jobs or positions, and to assist the government in developing plans for the rehabilitation of the men when they return.

Q. How much of this money will actually go to help the soldiers, and how much will be spent in salaries of armchair workers?

A. To date we have developed our programme with only two headquarters officers and a very limited number of men in the field, due to the fact that we have been able to utilize the services of our existing personnel free of charge, and also the assistance of so many voluntary workers. No matter how the work may develop, the paid personnel will, having regard to the amount of voluntary services rendered, be very moderate.

Q. Can my contribution be included as a deduction on my income tax?

A. Yes. This appeal is registered under the War Charities Act, and as such, the full exemption for War Charities contributions has been authorized by
